McGranery Says Leaders Accused of Working to Overthrow Nation by Force

Smith Law Is Said to Be Basis for Arrest of Group

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Justice Department announced today the arrest of 18 midwest and west coast Communist party leaders on charges of conspiring to advocate overthrow of the government by force and violence.

Attorney General McGranery and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said those arrested included the leaders of the party in Missouri, Washington state and Michigan.

Arrests were made in St. Louis, Rock Island, Ill., Charleston, Mo., Seattle, Detroit, Los Angeles, Portland and Eugene, Ore., Chicago and Minneapolis.

All the arrests were made on warrants issued by U. S. commissioners and federal judges on complaint of FBI agents. The attorney general authorized the filing of the complaints.

Winter's Wife Arrested

Among those arrested was Helen Mary Winter, 44, wife of Carl Winter, one of the 11 top Communist leaders convicted in New York in 1949.

Mrs. Winter, picked up in Detroit, has been Michigan state organizational secretary of the party.

The Justice Department announcement described Mrs. Winter as presently aetive with the "Committee for Amnesty for Smith Act Victims."

All those arrested today, like many party leaders seized earlier, are charged with violating the Smith Act which forbids conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the government by force and violence.

Four Others Taken

Those taken into custody today included:

Dorothy Rose Forest, 37, of St. Louis. She was arrested in her office in St. Louis.

James Frederick Forest, 42, also of St. Louis. He was picked up at his home in St. Louis.

William Sentner, 45, of St. Louis, arrested at a Rock Island Hotel.

Each arrest was made on the basis of a warrant issued by a U. S. commissioner or a federal judge on a complaint filed by a special agent of the FBI. Filing of the complaints was authorized by the attorney general.

Violation Charged

Those arrested were charged with violating the Smith Act. This is the law under which top leaders of the party were brought to trial in New York, and under which "second team" leaders have been accused in various parts of the country.

Terror Is Revealed By Wake Evacuees

Island's Damage Totals 8 to 10 Millions From 100-Mile Winds

(Stan Carter, an AP war correspondent in Korea, flew to Wake from Tokyo aboard a military rescue plane. Honolulu says his story is the first press copy received there from Wake.)

By STAN CARTER

Wake Island, Sept. 17 (AP)—Children clutching toys and dolls and young wives with tears in their eyes climbed into rescue planes today and left typhoon-lashed Wake for Honolulu.

They were the first of 350 persons evacuated today. More, including most of the fathers and husbands, will leave tomorrow.

They, and others to follow, take with them memories of standing knee deep in water in underground concrete shelters—of crawling on hands and knees in search of their families...of thinking that only the persons huddled in the same shelters with them were alive—that everyone else among the 750 on this tiny island had been killed by the sledgehammer blows of raging

They leave a wake covered with wreckage. There has been no official estimate of property damage. Residents say it will reach eight or 10 million dollars.

90 Per Cent Razed

At least 90 per cent of the buildings were leveled by the storm whose winds exceeded 160 miles an hour. Damage was particularly heavy in the residential areas, although by some freak of nature a house was left standing here and there.

Trans-Pacific air traffic will be disrupted for months. Dudley Musson of Louisville, island manager for the Civil Aeronautics Authority, said it would take three or four months to restore facilities for regular operation.

In the meantime, most planes will fly a longer route to the Far

Traffic Committee Asks Lights Be Synchronized on B'way

The Common Council voted unanimously last night to appropriate an additional $40,000 for the improvement of city streets.

The meeting had been recessed from September 2 at which time Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk asked for the additional appropriation on request of the Board of Public Works, explaining that about $18,000 remained of the original $75,000 earmarked for repair and improvement of city streets.

The Council also voted unanimously to adopt four recommendations of its traffic control committee on a 60-day trial basis.

Alderman Benjamin Storms of the Second Ward, chairman of the committee, pointed out that three of the recommendations came from Mayor Newkirk. These provide that there shall be no left hand turn off Broadway entering Thomas street, that Thomas street shall be one-way between Broadway and the new access street connecting Cornell and Thomas streets, with the entrance to Thomas street from Broadway, and that there shall be no parking on either side of Broadway for a distance of 270 feet northwesterly and southeasterly commencing from the center of the overpass bridge.

Would Synchronize Lights

The fourth recommendation provides that traffic lights on Broadway at Pine Grove avenue, O'Neil street and Cedar street be synchronized. This would mean that all three of the lights would go red at the same time and green at the same time.

Before voting in favor of the street appropriation Third Ward Alderman Edwin Radel expressed dissatisfaction with the delay in beginning repairs on Wilbur avenue, pointing out that funds in the amount of $19,000 had been earmarked for that purpose three years ago. Work on Wilbur avenue began late in July and since that time approximately $26,000 has been spent for repairs and improvements on that street, Radel pointed out, contending that if the funds had been used as specified by the Council the street could have been repaired much cheaply at that time.

Makes Own Estimate

He said that he had driven over the street on his way to Council meeting and that it looked to him as if it might take another $15,000 or so to complete the job.

He stated that if he could be sure the money Council was voting last night "went for what it was drawn" he would have no fear of voting for the bond issue. "Tonight," he said, "I'll vote in good faith that this money will be used as it is intended."

Alderman David Schecter of the Sixth Ward said that he felt the Board of Public Works had been "wise" not to begin the Wilbur avenue job three years ago since it has been used heavily since that time as a detour due to construction of the Broadway underpass.

Wants Consideration

Alderman Thomas F. Coughlin of the 7th Ward charged that the Wall St. Journal Knows of No Plot To Alter T-H Act

Editorial Reply Is Made to Truman Speech About Labor 'Oppression'

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Wall Street Journal, commenting on President Truman's message to the AFL national convention, said in an editorial today that it is "not aware of any Wall Street plot to change the Taft-Hartley Act."

Truman told the convention yesterday: "I do not know whether you read the Wall Street Journal, but I have seen indications in it lately that plans are afoot in Wall Street to make the Taft-Hartley law even more oppressive and unfair than it is at present."

The editorial said Truman's statement "seems to imply that this newspaper is somehow anti-labor and a proponent of the Taft-Hartley Act."

The editorial added:

"We have frequently expressed doubts about many government efforts to interfere with the processes of collective bargaining, including certain devices of the Taft-Hartley Act. We expect to do so again."

"Even for Mr. Truman," the newspaper said, "this statement seems to us to assay extraordinarily high in mis-information and mis-directed implications."

Truman's message, read to the convention, said that "a definite plot was hatched at the close of the war to smash, or at least to cripple, our trade union movement in a period of postwar reaction."

Says Employers Also Should File Oaths of Loyalty

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told the American Federation of Labor today that he favored "realistic" amendments to the Taft-Hartley law, but did not favor its repeal.

"I will not support any amendments which weaken the rights of working men and women," he said in an address prepared for delivery before the AFL annual convention here.

The GOP presidential nominee said he knew that the law as it stood "might be used to break unions."

"That must be changed," he said. "America wants no law licensing union-busting. Neither do I."

Follows HST by Day

Eisenhower's speech followed by a day a message to the convention by President Truman in which Truman said Republicans planned to "make the Taft-Hartley law even more oppressive and unfair" to labor.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, has advocated repeal of the Act and writing a new law.

Administration speakers appearing before the convention have urged repeal of the Act and have been loudly cheered.

The convention, which will hear Gov. Stephenson Monday, is expected to endorse him, thus departing from a long held tradition not to endorse a presidential candidate.

The GOP candidate said he believed that the AFL's own executive council had stated that it was prepared to take what it called a realistic view of amendments to the Taft-Hartley law.

"And that is my position too," he said. "I give it to you simply and clearly. I am in favor, not of repealing, but of amending the law."

Outlines Principles

Eisenhower said some of the principles he thought it was important to continue in the law were:

"The encouragement of collective bargaining, the right to strike; an advance notice before a strike is called; a requirement that both unions and employers live up to their contracts; the assurance that union members get a regular report on their union's finances."

Eisenhower told the 800 delegates "You know me well enough to know that I have not come to curry any special favor.

"I have not come to bid or compete for your endorsement," he said.

"My views toward labor will be the same as they long have been, regardless of the action taken by the AFL at this convention in the matter of endorsing a presidential candidate.

"My guide in this vital matter, as in others, will always remain the same:

"What is good for America—all America."

Oaths for Employers

Eisenhower said that "since pa-

Four Pupils Killed, 44 Are Injured

Train Snags School Bus, Drags It 50 Feet in Pennsylvania

Monessen, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP)—A freight train rammed the rear of a crowded school bus today at nearby Collinsburg, killing four pupils and injuring 44 more, 13 of them seriously.

The bus, en route to Rostraver High School, was almost past a street crossing when a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad train snagged its rear end and dragged it about 50 feet.

The number of passengers on the bus was estimated at 55. They included about 20 pupils picked up in Collinsburg for the trip to the school at nearby Pricedale in southwestern Pennsylvania.

Only two of the dead were identified immediately. They were Janice Everett, 17, a senior, of Collinsburg, and Dorothy Beckinger, 14, a freshman.

Calls It Horrible

Mrs. J. W. McCauley, wife of a funeral director and one of the first to answer frantic calls for ambulances, said:

"We got there about 10 minutes after the crash. It was the most horrible thing I have ever seen.

"There were injured school children all around. Nearly all were unconscious. I saw only one who was able to walk.

"The children were badly cut and mangled. Shoes, clothing and school books were scattered all over the place.

"We loaded the youngsters into a lot of ambulances. We put several in my car and another driver took them to the hospital.

"The motor and wheels of the bus were torn out. The body of the bus looked like a battered tin can."

Several parents, who rushed to the scene when they heard of the crash, fainted at the sight of the wreckage. Some lived only 50 feet from the crossing.

Airmail Shuttle Plan to Be Used Around New York Area

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—Helicopter airmail shuttle between Newark, LaGuardia and International airports will begin operations Oct. 15.

New York Airways, Inc., which will operate the service, says it plans to extend it to Westchester county, nearby Connecticut points, Long Island and Staten Island before the end of the year.

The company also has plans to introduce passenger helicopter service after 12 months.

The first helicopter for the airmail shuttle is scheduled for delivery the first week in October from the Sikorsky division of United Aircraft Corp., at Bridgeport, Conn., it will cost $130,000.

The operators expect two more helicopters to be delivered before Dec. 31.

Dutchess Strikes Spread To Orange and Rockland

Admits Guilt in Machine Secrecy—to Appear in Hudson

Ivan Massell, 30, of 95 West Pierpont street, who conducts the Ivanhoe Distributing Co., pleaded guilty last night before City Judge Raymond J. Mino to violations of the personal property law through failure to reveal the location of game machines.

Judge Mino postponed imposition of sentence to Sept. 30 to give Massell opportunity to produce the machines, which are of a type placed in taverns and restaurants.

Massell was also arrested last night by Sgt. William Messing at police headquarters on two check complaints. One by John Sangi, of Glasco, was for $70, and the other by George Nichols, of this city, was for $71.89.

On these, through his attorney Elmor Nathan, he pleaded not guilty and the case was put over to Sept. 24.

Two officers from Hudson today also executed a fraudulent check warrant here, local police said. He was paroled in the custody of his attorney for appearance in Hudson tomorrow.

Seven informations were filed on the charges dealing with the game machines and the plea of guilty was on four of these. The complaints were filed by Robert M. Jones, of Newton Highlands, Mass., who represents the Franklin Acceptance Inc., and the Redd Distributing Co., Inc., both of Massachusetts.

A jury trial was scheduled for last night on the game machine charges, but was canceled by the plea.

A fraudulent check charge for which Massell was arrested Aug. 11 was withdrawn at Highland Falls.

UN Soldiers Did Not Give Leaflets at Site of Truce Talks

Panmunjom, Korea, Sept. 17 (AP)—The senior allied liaison officer today denied that UN soldiers were trying to force propaganda leaflets on Communist security troops at this armistice site.

In a note delivered to the Reds, Col. Charles W. McCarthy said a joint investigation Monday "reveals strong evidence against your allegation."

McCarthy said, however, leaflets dropped from an allied plane might have falled in the neutral zone "because of changing winds."

HRSH and Matteawan Affected; Parkway Work Is Halted Down River

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—Building workers at two state institutions and construction crews on the Palisades Parkway in Orange and Rockland counties today joined a walkout that already had stopped work on four state highway projects in the Hudson valley.

The spreading strike stopped work on staff houses being built at Hudson River State Hospital, north of here, and at Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Beacon, where the main building is under reconstruction.

The strikers are members of AFL construction locals affiliated with the Dutchess County Building and Trade Council.

Kurt G. Rauer, assistant engineer of the Department of Public Works in the eighth district, said the strike had brought work on the Palisades Parkway project to a standstill.

In Excess of 200

An official announcement said the number out on strike is "in excess of 200."

The strikes have been attributed by Bertram D. Tallamy, superintendent of the State Department of Public Works to two grievances:

1. The workers objected to the state using its own crews on some road resurfacing projects; and

2. They objected to the state using patients of state institutions for road maintenance work within institutional grounds.

Dr. O. Arnold Kilpatrick, director of the Hudson River Hospital, said today that certain type of patients had been used on outside tasks, such as road building, on institution grounds.

Tallamy said the patients were assisting in the work for occupational therapy purposes.

No Agreement Seen

Los Angeles, Sept. 17 (AP)—Despite resumption of negotiations at one plant, there was little if any indication today of an early end to the strike which has crippled southern California's warplane production and idled 40,000 aircraft workers. Representatives of Lockheed Aircraft Co. and the AFL International Association of Machinists negotiate here again this afternoon before Federal Mediator Harry Malcolm. After yesterday's meeting, the first since 25,000 IAM members struck Lockheed Sept. 8, Vice President Cyril Chappelet of the company announced that a new offer had been made.

Production Is Canceled

Hollywood, Sept. 17 (AP)—MGM has canceled production of "The Student Prince," starring Mario Lanza, and says it will sue the singer for $700,000 it claims to have invested in the venture. A spokesman said yesterday that Lanza failed to appear for the start of the film Sept. 3 and that the production was dropped the next day.

Civic-Minded Body Sets Vote Goal as 51,366 in County

25 Organizations Send Representatives to Help Plan Drive for Registration

Twenty-five representatives of organizations and agencies met at the court house Tuesday evening to plan an intensive county-wide "Get-Out-The-Vote" campaign.

Chester A. Baltz, Jr., chairman of a special Kingston Chamber of Commerce committee, which sponsored the meeting, presided. All organizations and agencies were invited to participate.

Special emphasis will be placed on registration, where personal registration is required. Anyone who expects to be out of the city on registration days, October 3 and 4 and October 10 and 11, may take advantage of central registration. On or before September 26, any qualified citizen of Uister county may register at the Board of Elections office, 74 John street, here and qualify to vote on November 4.

Scouts to be Active

Sam Trull, representing Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, outlined a very comprehensive program they plan to carry out in cooperation with the Freedom Foundation. Robert Schwenk of the Junior Chamber of Commerce also reported an active program designed to get more people out to vote. The Freeman pledged complete support of the program as did radio station WKNY.

A goal of 51,366 votes in Ulster county was set by the committee. In 1948 only 44,789 votes were cast, while the county has an estimated potential of 62,112 voters.

An information sheet was handed out at the meeting giving the county and city registration dates, as well as information about central registration and absentee voting. All organizations represented will disseminate this information as widely as possible, and others will be called upon to do likewise.

Votes Preserve Democracy

It was repeatedly brought out at the meeting that "voting is a citizen's right and privilege we should all exercise to help preserve our American democratic form of government." The ballot was referred to as such citizen's share of voting stock in the greatest nation on earth.

As part of the overall program the Kingston Chamber of Commerce will distribute posters urging everyone qualified to register, and later another poster urging everyone to vote. A central point will be established at the Chamber office where those who want transportation may call and secure free transportation to the polls through the courtesy of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Other organizations plan to provide free baby-sitter service and other services to make it possible for those who might not be able to get to the polls and vote. These will be announced as they are arranged.

Campaign Outlook

(This is the third of a series of five stories on the political situation as of now, as seen by newspaper editors and political writers in all 48 states.)

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—Dixie editors rate it a 50-50 guess at this point whether the south will be solid or split in the 1952 presidential battle.

The consensus of those taking part in an Associated Press survey is that the bulk of Dixie once more will be safe for the Democrats. But newsmen say that if the selection were held now Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower might be able to storm the Democratic fortress in the south and border states and snatch three or possibly five states from Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson. Texas, Louisiana and Florida are the big question marks, Virginia and Kentucky lesser ones.

To Get Top GOP Vote

In state after state, even in some of those considered dead sure to go Democratic as usual, editors and correspondents say Eisenhower will receive the biggest vote ever accorded a Republican presidential candidate.

The way a North Carolina editor summed up prospects in his own county apparently applies to much of the southland:

"There will be more Republican votes but not nearly enough."

At the moment, the composite opinion of southern newspapermen is that Democratic nominee Adlai Stevenson is certain to sweep the presidential election in Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Oklahoma and West Virginia. Those nine states have 88 electoral votes.

Kentucky Is Close

Kentucky is considered close but fairly sure to go Democratic. Virginia editors think their state is leaning toward Stevenson by

Truman told the convention yesterday: "I do not know whether you read the Wall Street Journal, but I have seen indications in it lately that plans are afoot in Wall Street to make the Taft-Hartley law even more oppressive and unfair than it is at present."

The editorial said Truman's statement "seems to imply that this newspaper is somehow anti-labor and a proponent of the Taft-Hartley Act."

The editorial added:

"We have frequently expressed doubts about many government efforts to interfere with the processes of collective bargaining, including certain devices of the Taft-Hartley Act. We expect to do so again."

"Even for Mr. Truman," the newspaper said, "this statement seems to us to assay extraordinarily high in mis-information and mis-directed implications."

Truman's message, read to the convention, said that "a definite plot was hatched at the close of the war to smash, or at least to cripple, our trade union movement in a period of postwar reaction."

Says Employers Also Should File Oaths of Loyalty

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told the American Federation of Labor today that he favored "realistic" amendments to the Taft-Hartley law, but did not favor its repeal.

"I will not support any amendments which weaken the rights of working men and women," he said in an address prepared for delivery before the AFL annual convention here.

The GOP presidential nominee said he knew that the law as it stood "might be used to break unions."

"That must be changed," he said. "America wants no law licensing union-busting. Neither do I."

Follows HST by Day

Eisenhower's speech followed by a day a message to the convention by President Truman in which Truman said Republicans planned to "make the Taft-Hartley law even more oppressive and unfair" to labor.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, has advocated repeal of the Act and writing a new law.

Administration speakers appearing before the convention have urged repeal of the Act and have been loudly cheered.

The convention, which will hear Gov. Stephenson Monday, is expected to endorse him, thus departing from a long held tradition not to endorse a presidential candidate.

The GOP candidate said he believed that the AFL's own executive council had stated that it was prepared to take what it called a realistic view of amendments to the Taft-Hartley law.

"And that is my position too," he said. "I give it to you simply and clearly. I am in favor, not of repealing, but of amending the law."

Outlines Principles

Eisenhower said some of the principles he thought it was important to continue in the law were:

"The epcouragement of collective bargaining, the right to strike; an advance notice before a strike is called; a requirement that both unions and employers live up to their contracts; the assurance that union members get a regular report on their union's finances."

Eisenhower told the 800 delegates "You know me well enough to know that I have not come to curry any special favor.

"I have not come to bid or compete for your endorsement," he said.

"My views toward labor will be the same as they long have been, regardless of the action taken by the AFL at this convention in the matter of endorsing a presidential candidate.

"My guide in this vital matter, as in others, will always remain the same:

"What is good for America—all America."

Oaths for Employers

Eisenhower said that "since pa-

Four Pupils Killed, 44 Are Injured

Train Snags School Bus, Drags It 50 Feet in Pennsylvania

Monessen, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP)—A freight train rammed the rear of a crowded school bus today at nearby Collinsburg, killing four pupils and injuring 44 more, 13 of them seriously.

The bus, en route to Rostraver High School, was almost past a street crossing when a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad train snagged its rear end and dragged it about 50 feet.

The number of passengers on the bus was estimated at 55. They included about 20 pupils picked up in Collinsburg for the trip to the school at nearby Pricedale in southwestern Pennsylvania.

Only two of the dead were identified immediately. They were Janice Everett, 17, a senior, of Collinsburg, and Dorothy Beckinger, 14, a freshman.

Calls It Horrible

Mrs. J. W. McCauley, wife of a funeral director and one of the first to answer frantic calls for ambulances, said:

"We got there about 10 minutes after the crash. It was the most horrible thing I have ever seen.

"There were injured school children all around. Nearly all were unconscious. I saw only one who was able to walk.

"The children were badly cut and mangled. Shoes, clothing and school books were scattered all over the place.

"We loaded the youngsters into a lot of ambulances. We put several in my car and another driver took them to the hospital.

"The motor and wheels of the bus were torn out. The body of the bus looked like a battered tin can."

Several parents, who rushed to the scene when they heard of the crash, fainted at the sight of the wreckage. Some lived only 50 feet from the crossing.

Dutchess Strikes Spread To Orange and Rockland

Admits Guilt in Machine Secrecy—to Appear in Hudson

Ivan Massell, 30, of 95 West Pierpont street, who conducts the Ivanhoe Distributing Co., pleaded guilty last night before City Judge Raymond J. Mino to violations of the personal property law through failure to reveal the location of game machines.

Judge Mino postponed imposition of sentence to Sept. 30 to give Massell opportunity to produce the machines, which are of a type placed in taverns and restaurants.

Massell was also arrested last night by Sgt. William Messing at police headquarters on two check complaints. One by John Sangi, of Glasco, was for $70, and the other by George Nichols, of this city, was for $71.89.

On these, through his attorney Elmor Nathan, he pleaded not guilty and the case was put over to Sept. 24.

Two officers from Hudson today also executed a fraudulent check warrant here, local police said. He was paroled in the custody of his attorney for appearance in Hudson tomorrow.

Seven informations were filed on the charges dealing with the game machines and the plea of guilty was on four of these. The complaints were filed by Robert M. Jones, of Newton Highlands, Mass., who represents the Franklin Acceptance Inc., and the Redd Distributing Co., Inc., both of Massachusetts.

A jury trial was scheduled for last night on the game machine charges, but was canceled by the plea.

A fraudulent check charge for which Massell was arrested Aug. 11 was withdrawn at Highland Falls.

HRSH and Matteawan Affected; Parkway Work Is Halted Down River

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—Building workers at two state institutions and construction crews on the Palisades Parkway in Orange and Rockland counties today joined a walkout that already had stopped work on four state highway projects in the Hudson valley.

The spreading strike stopped work on staff houses being built at Hudson River State Hospital, north of here, and at Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Beacon, where the main building is under reconstruction.

The strikers are members of AFL construction locals affiliated with the Dutchess County Building and Trade Council.

Kurt G. Rauer, assistant engineer of the Department of Public Works in the eighth district, said the strike had brought work on the Palisades Parkway project to a standstill.

In Excess of 200

An official announcement said the number out on strike is "in excess of 200."

The strikes have been attributed by Bertram D. Tallamy, superintendent of the State Department of Public Works to two grievances:

1. The workers objected to the state using its own crews on some road resurfacing projects; and

2. They objected to the state using patients of state institutions for road maintenance work within institutional grounds.

Dr. O. Arnold Kilpatrick, director of the Hudson River Hospital, said today that certain type of patients had been used on outside tasks, such as road building, on institution grounds.

Tallamy said the patients were assisting in the work for occupational therapy purposes.

No Agreement Seen

Los Angeles, Sept. 17 (AP)—Despite resumption of negotiations at one plant, there was little if any indication today of an early end to the strike which has crippled southern California's warplane production and idled 40,000 aircraft workers. Representatives of Lockheed Aircraft Co. and the AFL International Association of Machinists negotiate here again this afternoon before Federal Mediator Harry Malcolm. After yesterday's meeting, the first since 25,000 IAM members struck Lockheed Sept. 8, Vice President Cyril Chappelet of the company announced that a new offer had been made.

Production Is Canceled

Hollywood, Sept. 17 (AP)—MGM has canceled production of "The Student Prince," starring Mario Lanza, and says it will sue the singer for $700,000 it claims to have invested in the venture. A spokesman said yesterday that Lanza failed to appear for the start of the film Sept. 3 and that the production was dropped the next day.

Civic-Minded Body Sets Vote Goal as 51,366 in County

25 Organizations Send Representatives to Help Plan Drive for Registration

Twenty-five representatives of organizations and agencies met at the court house Tuesday evening to plan an intensive county-wide "Get-Out-The-Vote" campaign.

Chester A. Baltz, Jr., chairman of a special Kingston Chamber of Commerce committee, which sponsored the meeting, presided. All organizations and agencies were invited to participate.

Special emphasis will be placed on registration, where personal registration is required. Anyone who expects to be out of the city on registration days, October 3 and 4 and October 10 and 11, may take advantage of central registration. On or before September 26, any qualified citizen of Uister county may register at the Board of Elections office, 74 John street, here and qualify to vote on November 4.

Scouts to be Active

Sam Trull, representing Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, outlined a very comprehensive program they plan to carry out in cooperation with the Freedom Foundation. Robert Schwenk of the Junior Chamber of Commerce also reported an active program designed to get more people out to vote. The Freeman pledged complete support of the program as did radio station WKNY.

A goal of 51,366 votes in Ulster county was set by the committee. In 1948 only 44,789 votes were cast, while the county has an estimated potential of 62,112 voters.

An information sheet was handed out at the meeting giving the county and city registration dates, as well as information about central registration and absentee voting. All organizations represented will disseminate this information as widely as possible, and others will be called upon to do likewise.

Votes Preserve Democracy

It was repeatedly brought out at the meeting that "voting is a citizen's right and privilege we should all exercise to help preserve our American democratic form of government." The ballot was referred to as such citizen's share of voting stock in the greatest nation on earth.

As part of the overall program the Kingston Chamber of Commerce will distribute posters urging everyone qualified to register, and later another poster urging everyone to vote. A central point will be established at the Chamber office where those who want transportation may call and secure free transportation to the polls through the courtesy of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Other organizations plan to provide free baby-sitter service and other services to make it possible for those who might not be able to get to the polls and vote. These will be announced as they are arranged.

Charge Is Denied

UN Soldiers Did Not Give Leaflets at Site of Truce Talks

Panmunjom, Korea, Sept. 17 (AP)—The senior allied liaison officer today denied that UN soldiers were trying to force propaganda leaflets on Communist security troops at this armistice site.

In a note delivered to the Reds, Col. Charles W. McCarthy said a joint investigation Monday "reveals strong evidence against your allegation."

McCarthy said, however, leaflets dropped from an allied plane might have falled in the neutral zone "because of changing winds."

Campaign Outlook

(This is the third of a series of five stories on the political situation as of now, as seen by newspaper editors and political writers in all 48 states.)

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—Dixie editors rate it a 50-50 guess at this point whether the south will be solid or split in the 1952 presidential battle.

The consensus of those taking part in an Associated Press survey is that the bulk of Dixie once more will be safe for the Democrats. But newsmen say that if the selection were held now Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower might be able to storm the Democratic fortress in the south and border states and snatch three or possibly five states from Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson. Texas, Louisiana and Florida are the big question marks, Virginia and Kentucky lesser ones.

To Get Top GOP Vote

In state after state, even in some of those considered dead sure to go Democratic as usual, editors and correspondents say Eisenhower will receive the biggest vote ever accorded a Republican presidential candidate.

The way a North Carolina editor summed up prospects in his own county apparently applies to much of the southland:

"There will be more Republican votes but not nearly enough."

At the moment, the composite opinion of southern newspapermen is that Democratic nominee Adlai Stevenson is certain to sweep the presidential election in Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Oklahoma and West Virginia. Those nine states have 88 electoral votes.

Kentucky Is Close

Airmail Shuttle Plan to Be Used Around New York Area

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—Helicopter airmail shuttle between Newark, LaGuardia and International airports will begin operations Oct. 15.

New York Airways, Inc., which will operate the service, says it plans to extend it to Westchester county, nearby Connecticut points, Long Island and Staten Island before the end of the year.

The company also has plans to introduce passenger helicopter service after 12 months.

The first helicopter for the airmail shuttle is scheduled for delivery the first week in October from the Sikorsky division of United Aircraft Corp., at Bridgeport, Conn., it will cost $130,000.

The operators expect two more helicopters to be delivered before Dec. 31.

Guido Became Corporal

Joseph Guido, 19, son of Frank Guido of 3 Beach street and Mrs. Gladys Moon of 608 Broadway, who was killed in action in Korea on September 5, had been promoted to corporal shortly before the marine met his death. At the time of his death the promotion had not been recorded in Washington and the notice of Corporal Guido's death listed him as a private first class. Since then the family has been notified of the promotion by the U. S. Navy Department.

Gives Seven Points Discrediting Germ Warfare Charges

Seven points which he said add up to the fact that the United States cannot be using germ warfare in Korea were cited by Dr. James A. Comstock, local dentist, in a talk before the Kingston Lions Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Tuesday. They were:

1. The known, proven and apparent Communist penchant for falsehood.
2. The fact that disease is always present in war.
3. The presence of UN troops in the area would cause biological warfare to "boomerang" and since the UN troopes are already outnumbered it would be poor tactics to risk sacrificing any of them by such practice.
4. Refusal of the Communists to allow the International Red Cross to investigate the charges in the area.
5. If biological warfare had been used, it would have been a complete failure. Real biological warfare would have made an area as small as Korea totally uninhabitable before now.
6. The charge gives the Communists perfect opportunity for "killing two birds with one stone"—giving the U. S. a black eye and making the Chinese more receptive to sanitation training.
7. Our own attempt to maintain the "status quo" in Korea. No all-out effort has been made to bring the war to a swift close.

Her Charming Accent Costs Merchants $166

Dayton, O., Sept 17 (AP)—The "French war bride" explained to merchants she had been in Dayton only a few months— and she was bewildered by American currency.

Therefore, she explained, her husband had opened a checking account for her.

The merchants were entranced—so petite, so chic—and ooh la la, that accent!

Then the checks bounced. Five of them, totalling $166.

Guido Became Corporal

Joseph Guido, 19, son of Frank Guido of 3 Beach street and Mrs. Gladys Moon of 608 Broadway, who was killed in action in Korea on September 5, had been promoted to corporal shortly before the marine met his death. At the time of his death the promotion had not been recorded in Washington and the notice of Corporal Guido's death listed him as a private first class. Since then the family has been notified of the promotion by the U. S. Navy Department.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, Sept. 16—Local members of the Plattekill Grange attended a meeting at the Grange Hall on Saturday evening, Sept. 13, when the annual election of officers was held. A gift was presented to the infant son of the Master of the Grange and Mrs. James Wilkin by Mrs. Joseph Evans representing the service and hospitality committee. The refreshments committee included Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fetter, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Langlitz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Franklin, Sophie and Joseph Zirger, Ralph Birdsall, Alfred and Harold Wood and John Emenecker.

Mrs. Emmett Hyatt of Clintondale, formerly of Modena, and active in Modena church affairs, has been appointed executive secretary of the Newburgh Public Health and Tuberculosis Association. Mrs. Hyatt is a graduate of St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing, Newburgh, class of 1940. In 1941 she completed a six months post-graduate course at Margaret Hague Maternity Hospital in New Jersey, and was supervisor of the maternity department at the Newburgh Hospital for more than five years. She enrolled for a public health nurse's apprenticeship, under the New York State Department of Health in 1947, and received her field experience in Sullivan county. She enrolled later for one year at State Teachers College in New Paltz. In February 1948 Mrs. Hyatt was appointed to the staff of the Newburgh Health Department, on which she continues to serve.

Mrs. Simon DuBois of this place, and daughter Mrs. Ronert McPhillips of Montgomery attended a bridal shower given the former Miss Marlene Alsdorf of Walden, at the home of Mrs. James Decker at Walden. Miss Jane Eckert of Wallkill was hostess. Miss Alsdorf, daughter of George Alsdorf, a former local resident, was married to Floyd Schmidt of Ohio at the Walden Methodist Church, Saturday, Sept. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Dimitrius Xenakis and son Stanley of New York were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mouzithras.

Miss Barbara Harcourt, daughter of Mrs. Lillian S. Harcourt of the Clintondale section, is attending Rider College, Trenton, N. J. Miss Harcourt won a four-year scholarship in secretarial and accounting, in which she is majoring at the college.

Mrs. Beverley Palett and son Eugene of Bridgeport, Conn., visited Mr. and Mrs. William Adams and sons Pat and Billy recently.

At a recent election of officers of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, Louise Smalley of Clintondale was chosen vice-president and Patricia Pink of Modena on the worship committee. Both girls are members of the Modena-Clintondale Youth Fellowship unit.

Gives Seven Points Discrediting Germ Warfare Charges

Seven points which he said add up to the fact that the United States cannot be using germ warfare in Korea were cited by Dr. James A. Comstock, local dentist, in a talk before the Kingston Lions Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Tuesday. They were:

1. The known, proven and apparent Communist penchant for falsehood.

2. The fact that disease is always present in war.

3. The presence of UN troops in the area would cause biological warfare to "boomerang" and since the UN troopes are already outnumbered it would be poor tactics to risk sacrificing any of them by such practice.

4. Refusal of the Communists to allow the International Red Cross to investigate the charges in the area.

5. If biological warfare had been used, it would have been a complete failure. Real biological warfare would have made an area as small as Korea totally uninhabitable before now.

6. The charge gives the Communists perfect opportunity for "killing two birds with one stone"—giving the U. S. a black eye and making the Chinese more receptive to sanitation training.

7. Our own attempt to maintain the "status quo" in Korea. No all-out effort has been made to bring the war to a swift close.

Her Charming Accent Costs Merchants $166

Dayton, O., Sept 17 (AP)—The "French war bride" explained to merchants she had been in Dayton only a few months— and she was bewildered by American currency.

Therefore, she explained, her husband had opened a checking account for her.

The merchants were entranced—so petite, so chic—and ooh la la, that accent!

Then the checks bounced. Five of them, totalling $166.

SOUTH KOREANS' STRONG SHOWING

The recent strong showing of South Korean forces on the central front in Korea is heartening news. The troops involved were, of course, the crack Capitol Division, of whom much is expected. But the performance nevertheless was good for South Korean morale generally.

It was good for more than that. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the American Eighth Army in Korea, has been engaged for months in an intensive program to train and re-equip the entire South Korean army so it may one day stand on its own feet in the defense of its soil. The South Koreans need to see evidence that they can do this, even on a limited sector of the front.

After more than a year of fruitless peace negotiations at Kaesong and Panmunjom, none of the Western nations looks with optimism upon the Korean situation. Wishing neither to widen the war nor to pull out, our leaders have allowed themselves to become enmeshed in apparently endless and pointless proceedings at the council table.

About the most positive thing that has developed in recent months is our repeated insistence upon truce talk recesses so long as it is evident the Reds do not intend to discuss terms seriously. This keeps alive the machinery for negotiation without reducing our truce team to a mere captive audience for Red propaganda.

Since these talks have proved so thoroughly unproductive, their sole important effect has been to dampen military activities and create a stabilized, if not a stalemated, front. Perhaps that is the way the Communists want it—a stability that does not drain Chinese and North Korean and Russian substance too heavily but yet keeps us occupied, denying us the opportunity to ease off in manpower and materiel.

If that is the Red aim, there is no way we can extricate ourselves from the dilemma it poses except to find adequate substitute for the American and other Allied forces now holding the line. That's where Van Fleet and his South Korean training program comes in.

The one big hope for us at the moment in an otherwise dismal situation is that the South Korean army may become a truly formidable force. If it does, then the South Koreans may be safely entrusted with the future defense of their own country for other services or to return to normal civilian pursuits.

It would be unrealistic to imagine the South Koreans at the best could take care of their own equipment needs. These we shall most certainly have to fill, even if there is not an American soldier on Korean soil. But this would be a relatively small burden compared to what we are bearing today.

If a politician would greet his constituents with the imitation of enthusiasm which a radio or television announcer puts into his commercials, he would never fail of election.

LETTER OF THE LAW

Joe L. Cowart, a Fayette County, Kentucky, tobacco grower, overplanted his 5.9 acre allotment by one-fifth of an acre. When he discovered his mistake he appealed to the Department of Agriculture to allow him to market the tobacco and give whatever he received to the March of Dimes. His request was refused. He had to plow the excess under.

The Department of Agriculture official who handled the case was doing his duty in refusing Cowart's request. The law is explicit and it was his job to enforce it. But the purpose of the law limiting planting would have been served just as well had the farmer been allowed to sell the tobacco and give the money to the March of Dimes fund.

One fifth of an acre is not a lot of land and the crop raised on it could not have seriously affected the price of tobacco. Officials who administer such regulations should be given a certain freedom to act on their own judgment. Inflexible regulations lead to unjustice and foolish waste.

Some of the flying saucers have been explained by a scientist who experimented with a glass jar. Others could probably be explained by experiments with the contents of certain bottles.

'These Days'

SOCIALIST NEUTRALISM

It has been fashionable in recent years, in this country, for those in both parties who deal with international problems, to believe that a "Third Force" can save Europe from Russia. They have therefore tended to support the various Socialist groups which take a middle position between the United States and Soviet Russia. In effect, it is more and more becoming American policy, by indirection, to support neutralism in Europe.

The British Labour Party has, under the influence of Aneurin Bevan, been developing neutralistic tendencies. Although at a recent meeting of the party, the Bevan faction was defeated, its strength was apparent. It is probable that should the Labour Party return to power, Bevan will be its leader. He is a National Socialist of Marxist persuasion, who places the United States on a par with Soviet Russia from a British standpoint. He seeks, for Great Britain, a balance of power between the United States and Soviet Russia, with Great Britain allied to neither but benefiting from both.

While the British Labour Party has never been in agreement with the United States on its China policy or the Korean War, it is possible to say with accuracy that the Conservative Party has been of divided opinion and not altogether favorably disposed. Great Britain, whether Labour or Conservative, desired that the United States recognize Soviet China, as the British did, with a view to assisting British trade. Both parties were antagonistic to General Douglas MacArthur.

The British forces assigned to the Korean War amount to about 23,000 as compared to 600,000 Americans. American casualties have amounted to approximately 120,000; British go over 3,000; Americans killed amount to about 20,000; the British killed to over 500.

Yet, the British insist upon determining the policy of this war. So far as the British are concerned, the re-establishment of the 38th parallel ended the Korean War. Yet Americans are being killed there every day.

In a full dress debate on this subject in the House of Commons, the following resolution was introduced by Mr. Noel-Baker (Labour):

"That this House, while appreciating that the Government and armed forces of the United States of America have borne the major share of the burden of resisting armed aggression in Korea, regrets the failure of Her Majesty's Government to secure effective consultation prior to recent developments, including consultation on the timing of certain recent air operations; and considers that improved arrangements should now be made to enable such consultation to take place between the governments principally concerned on issues of United Nations policy in the Far East."

It is important to note that this is what he proposed:

"He agreed that military operations could not be run by a committee—there must be a command—and that 16 governments could not be told in advance about impending plans and operations . . . but he maintained that we could have not only a British deputy chief of staff, but a more fully integrated command under General Mark Clark, and a small but strong political sub-committee of the United Nations to study and consider at high level the big political issues as they arose.

"But more adequate machinery would not suffice if the government failed to assert their right to consultation. . . ."

Churchill came to our defense. It is interesting to note some of the things he said:

"But more adequate machinery would not suffice if the government failed to assert their right to consultation. . . ."

Churchill came to our defense. It is interesting to note some of the things he said:

". . . What the Communists had lost in the field they recovered at the haggling table of Panmunjom. If they compared the position today with what it was a year ago, they could see how shrewd and well-timed was the Russian request for an armistice and how heavy had been the cost to the American armies who were bearing nine-tenths of the burden and the brunt of the war in Korea. . . .

"It was said that the United States forces had had 32,000 casualties in the bickering on the front during the armistice negotiations. We had 1,200. . . ."

I wish to call atention to the fact that I wrote, at the time that the armistice was proposed, that this would happen. I say this not in pride but rather to point out that this has always been the way of the Chinese Communists; that Chiang Kai-shek lost Manchuria and North China because he was forced by the United States to accept a similar armistice with the Chinese Communists.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

EXERCISE PAYS DIVIDENDS

We have only to look at the surface of the human body, with its hundreds of muscles, to realize that they were placed there for a purpose. Man is covered with muscle from the top of his head to the soles of his feet. In prehistoric times, man worked or exercised these muscles in his pursuit of food, but today there is so much done for him that he scarcely uses these muscles. It is for this reason, that is, the lack of need to exercise his muscles, that physicians, while pointing out the dangers of severe or hard exercise in the elderly, suggest vigorous exercise for the young, moderate exercise for the middle-aged and very light exercise—walking and a few bending exercises—for the elderly.

When little or no exercise is being taken, there is lack of appetite, feeble heart beat, low blood pressure, constipation.

Some years ago in earlier investigations, Dr. A. Weiss studied the effect of muscular exertion on hypertension (high blood pressure) and in the German Medical Journal he describes studies on patients with hypotension (low blood pressure). Persons with normal blood pressure served as controls.

It was found that after the period of recovery that followed the exertion (two to three minutes in physical examination for insurance or the armed forces) patients with low blood pressure showed an increase in blood pressure, whereas many of those with hypertension (high blood pressure) showed a decrease in blood pressure. The exertion (exercise) acts as a stimulus in hypotension and as a sedative (quieter) in hypertension, that is, it acts as a counterregulator.

We learn that in low blood pressure, usually individuals under weight and taking little or no exercise, the use of their muscles in any exertion raises the blood pressure and they feel stronger and more willing to work or exercise. On the other hand, the individual with high blood pressure, by taking regular systematic exercise, can gradually get it down or nearly to normal and it will remain there as long as he continues his exercise and particularly if he loses some excess fat, either by exercise or by cutting down on his food.

Remember, then, the muscles were meant to be used and that is why regular exercise, even if only five to ten minutes daily, increases appetite, strengthens the heart and lowers the blood pressure. And, where blood pressure is low, it is increased by exercise.

Right in the Breadbasket

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—To understand the inside on the Taft-Eisenhower breakfast last week you have to know something about the pressures brought on both men by friends and advisers.

Among Eisenhower's friends, some considered the statement by Taft after the breakfast to be abject surrender by the victor at Chicago to the man he defeated at Chicago. That was why Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon immediately scratched his name off the Ike list.

Some of these friends feel that never before has a candidate been so humiliated in public as when Taft told newsmen he had written the "joint" 7-page statement in Cincinnati before he came to breakfast. At least, they say, he might have preserved the fiction that the two had worked it out together.

Just a few weeks ago, they point out, Eisenhower walked out of the Chicago Convention the biggest man in America, considered a sure bet to win. Today, two months after Chicago, he has to accept policy dictated by the man he defeated.

However, others of Ike's friends point to the terrific pressures he was under. In Massachusetts, he knew that Taft supporters were so bitter that Senator Lodge hadn't dared feature in his campaign literature the fact that he was once Ike's campaign manager. In Indiana, state GOP chairman Cale Holder, strong Taft supporter, reported that many of his cohorts were dragging their feet.

In Cleveland, Ike personally found how tough it was to dent the Taft forces when he spoke at a private dinner to try to pry open Taft pocketbooks. The response was not overwhelming. Taft money-men say that Wall street nominated Eisenhower, so Wall Street can now finance him.

And what made things worse was when Congressman George Bender, a Taft supporter, was barred from the dining room by state chairman Ray Bliss. Seething mad, Bender walked out.

Speakers' Sabotage

In Washington, two Taft men—Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota and Congressman Charley Halleck of Indiana—are in charge of the speakers bureau. And when Ike-supporter Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts offered to make some speeches in his home state, Massachusetts, nothing happened. For four weeks he wasn't called on. Finally, when he complained at the inactivity, Taftite Halleck assigned Saltonstall to speak in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio—three bedrock Taft states where a man of Saltonstall's political background would be valueless.

Again, when Ikeman Sen. George Aiken of Vermont volunteered to speak, he wasn't given a single engagement in New England where he would be most effective.

Thus, with the GOP split even worse than generally suspected, Eisenhower yielded to midroad advisers who said he had to heal the Taft breach.

Two of these advisers—Sens. Frank Carlson of Kansas and Alex Smith of New Jersey—arranged the breakfast preliminaries. Smith, vacationing in Canada, spent part of a month urging Taft to get wholeheartedly into the campaign, argued that Taft and Ike would be an unbeatable team: Ike on foreign policy, Taft on domestic issues.

Taft, at first, balked, said his wing of the party was opposed to Dewey control, would be flatly opposed to having Dewey in the cabinet.

Taft's 7-Page Statement

When Taft got to New York the night before the breakfast, he handed Senator Carlson a copy of the now-famous "joint" statement. In a corner was written in green ink: "For Senator Carlson. To be given only to General Eisenhower."

However, Carlson did not give the statement to Eisenhower the night before, as Taft intended. He kept it—presumably because he feared Ike might get sore, and that it was better for the two men to get acquainted personally before haggling over legal and political phraseology.

Next morning, at breakfast, Taft broke the ice with: "I want to congratulate you for taking off the gloves."

He added that it would be fatal to try to "coast through this campaign" as Dewey did in 1948.

Then, as the conversation progressed, Taft diagnosed the "heartbeat" of the Republican Party as "west of the Alleghenies," and predicted:

"If that section is properly handled, we will win in November."

Regarding the eastern states, Taft said that, if Ike continued a fighting campaign, hitting the issues and naming names, "you won't do any worse than Dewey did in 1948, with the possible exception of New York which will be very tough to carry."

By naming names, Taft indicated that he had in mind President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson.

Taft said he thought Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Iowa would be safely in Republican hands, and that prospects also looked good in the far west, including California, where, he said, "Senator Nixon will be of tremendous help."

Taft thought there might be a good chance for Ike to pick up two southern states — Texas and Louisiana—but was not as optimistic as Ike regarding the others.

European Disagreement

Eisenhower was a little surprised when Taft pulled the seven-page statement from his pocket. Taft had assumed Ike had already read it. However, they agreed on most of it, Eisenhower penciling in some changes.

Their only real disagreement was regarding aid to Europe and the NATO armies, which the general considered important to block the spread of communism.

"On that subject," said Taft with a smile, "let us say that our differences are a matter of degree. I will support you even though we may not see eye-to-eye on everything."

On domestic policies, Eisenhower said, "these are more in your field than mine, senator," and Taft had his way on that.

The general invited Taft to appoint a man on his strategy board, and to that end Taft met with Gov. Sherman Adams the same day. This was a bit of a pill for Taft to swallow since he was boiling mad at the governor of New Hampshire both after Chicago and for leaking the premature news of the Taft-Ike meeting.

Eisenhower also invited Taft to a strategy meeting in New York this week to look over his speech to be made before the A.F. of L. convention. It was indicated that he would defer to Taft's views in that speech.

After the breakfast was over Eisenhower privately asked Senator Carlson why he had not given him the advance copy of Taft's proposed statement. Carlson explained that he wanted the two men to sit down fresh, and work it out spontaneously.

"You would do that to me," Ike retorted.

Requests Are Made Early for Prediction on Outcome of Presidential Campaign

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 17—People are writing in even at this early date to ask for a prediction as to who will win the presidential election. There is one all-important question, however, which has to be answered first: How intense is the resentment against the party in power? Is it deep-seated or just superficial?

If the American people disapprove of the Democratic party's record in Washington, then by this time they already have made up their minds to vote against it. If, on the other hand, they approve of the record as made by President Truman and his administration, then all the campaign speeches, television shows and "whistle-stop" tours of the Republicans aren't going to change it.

For the real issue is the record of the last four years in Washington. It isn't a question of which candidate is superior—the electorate for the most part will hardly have a chance to make a minute comparison or a balanced judgment in the next month and a half. Many people are writing in already saying they are bored with the speeches of the candidates. This to some extent has always been true—candidates influence the votes of a certain segment, but the basic trend is influenced by what has been happening and by what has been said in four years and not just in the last four months before election day.

What do 50,000,000 people think about? Mass opinion generally is influenced by fundamentally simple things. The voters usually are influenced by an impression they form as to whether a party in power has made a good record or a bad record. What do the voters have in common? Sometimes, for example, bad mail service tells them that an administration which can't deliver letters promptly is probably bad in other respects, too. This happened in 1920. It could happen again.

The issue isn't "change" as such. Governor Dewey argued in 1948 that "it is time for a change." But the average man doesn't understand "change" as a political issue. If you ask him whether he wants a "change," he is more likely to ask "change what?" or "change to what?" This makes the issue personal when it isn't personal at all. It isn't necessary to get sick oneself to understand the importance of having honest inspection of meat.

Hence the real question is whether the administration has made the kind of record that has made it undesirable to reward the Democratic party with another four years of power.

The bank cashier who repeatedly failed to lock the cash drawers of the bank may select a vigilant cashier as a successor and might recommend a friend, too. Does that mean the negligent, careless cashier goes scot free and suffers no penalty for allowing the robberies to happen?

While the issue in the "mess in Washington" involves several dishonest persons in the official entourage, the question isn't whether Truman is honest or Stevenson is honest or Eisenhower is honest. All three are men of integrity. But tolerance of dishonesty by the administration in power is bad, and delay in rooting it out is indefensible. A political fidelity which supersedes all other instincts is in some respects even worse. This has been a primarily political regime here—political in its worse sense. It has "covered up" scandals.

It's the political system in Washington which smells to high heaven and, if the American people don't mind the stench and think it will be ended merely by putting in another Democrat as president, there isn't much doubt about the outcome of the election—It will be a landslide for Stevenson.

If, on the other hand, the American people are sick and tired of the "Mess in Washington" and want to show their indignation and disapproval of political unmorality, with its unsavory ramifications in so many different departments and agencies of the government, then the outcome will be a decisive vote against the Democratic Party, which means a landslide for Eisenhower.

It doesn't seem to this writer that there is going to be a close election. The tide will run decisively one way or the other—either in approving the Democratic record as subject to a cleansing by a new Democratic executive or as disapproving the entire record and "mess" completely and calling for a new administration to clean it up from top to bottom.

Neither Eisenhower nor Stevenson is making a very good campaign in a strategy sense. The Republican nominee is somewhat better than he was. He seems to recognize now the importance of attack as a tactic, but he hasn't become specific and hasn't told the country what "the Washington mess" is all about—giving chapter and verse.

The Democratic nominee, on the other hand, is relatively unknown and isn't making himself any better known by highbrow or witty speeches on subjects rather difficult for the average man to understand anyhow. The late Franklin D. Roosevelt would have used a different style in speechwriting.

It looks now as if the most spectacular part of the campaign will be the Truman-Taft battle on the stump. Each is a seasoned campaigner but President Truman will lack the prestige he had in 1948. For he has made so many blunders—particularly last spring in the steel-seizure "mess"—that his words will not carry the weight they carried four years ago. Senator Taft, on the other hand, has risen in stature and stands before the American people as a good loser, a man without rancor and a man who wants to debate details as well as principles.

The Taft-Truman debate may turn out to be an influential factor in the campaign, for it seems probable that Senator Taft will not hesitate to spell out the Truman record. Not only the president but Governor Stevenson will be unable to ignore his specific attacks. If Taft does a job of explaining the "mess," the resentment against the things exposed may run deep enough to defeat the Democratic ticket.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

It seems to me that General Eisenhower has made the competence and character of his old friend and professional patron, George Marshall, a major issue in the campaign. In the lawyers' term, that cock won't fight, and Eisenhower would favor both himself and Marshall, and Republican party ticket as well, by lifting that cock out of the political pit. Why should the Republican nominee campaign to redeem the reputation of a general who is a Democrat and a monumental failure?

Senator Joe McCarthy was the first public man of any size to muster the courage to sling a Dornick at Marshall's plumed hat. He didn't miss and Marshall set up a silent but eloquent yelp for sympathy and defense against irrefutable, damning facts. Marshall would have been much more fortunate had he escaped the predatory favor of the vampire Roosevelt, who used up so many men and left them helpless, shameless and discredited.

This has been Marshall's shocking fate, but he has only himself to blame. He accepted the trashy honors and the favors of a condescending patron and put himself on a spot. His first major wound was suffered when he tried to vindicate the guilty ring in Washington which deliberately withheld from Kimmel and Short at Honolulu knowledge well in hand, with seven hours to spare, that the Japanese fleet was on its way to a strike which wiped out 3,000 American fighting men and a fleet in less than an hour. The men who held back this information should have been put to death by firing squads, not for an error of judgment but for a concerted, willful failure to do their duty and to save those lives and that fleet.

God only knows how many other lives were lost in further consequence of that refusal. The widening circle of disaster in the Pacific merged into the other events of the war, but the confusion and helplessness of an ensuing period of some length were the results of that awful hour. So the 3,000 dead and the loss of the fleet were not the total cost to us of that delay in transmission of the news.

Marshall testified that he could not remember where he was during a period of hours when that warning should have been on its way by the quickest possible method. That was incomprehensible. I am one of many who believe he acted without honor or courage in permitting Roosevelt to make goats of Kimmel and Short through the dishonest conduct of the so-called Roberts Committee.

This committee was thrown together in a hurry under Justice Owen Roberts, of the Supreme Court, to investigate any derelictions of duty by military or naval commanders in Hawaii. Very pointedly, the "directive" from the guilty Roosevelt excluded

SOUTH KOREANS' STRONG SHOWING

The recent strong showing of South Korean forces on the central front in Korea is heartening news. The troops involved were, of course, the crack Capitol Division, of whom much is expected. But the performance nevertheless was good for South Korean morale generally.

It was good for more than that. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the American Eighth Army in Korea, has been engaged for months in an intensive program to train and re-equip the entire South Korean army so it may one day stand on its own feet in the defense of its soil. The South Koreans need to see evidence that they can do this, even on a limited sector of the front.

After more than a year of fruitless peace negotiations at Kaesong and Panmunjom, none of the Western nations looks with optimism upon the Korean situation. Wishing neither to widen the war nor to pull out, our leaders have allowed themselves to become enmeshed in apparently endless and pointless proceedings at the council table.

About the most positive thing that has developed in recent months is our repeated insistence upon truce talk recesses so long as it is evident the Reds do not intend to discuss terms seriously. This keeps alive the machinery for negotiation without reducing our truce team to a mere captive audience for Red propaganda.

Since these talks have proved so thoroughly unproductive, their sole important effect has been to dampen military activities and create a stabilized, if not a stalemated, front. Perhaps that is the way the Communists want it—a stability that does not drain Chinese and North Korean and Russian substance too heavily but yet keeps us occupied, denying us the opportunity to ease off in manpower and materiel.

If that is the Red aim, there is no way we can extricate ourselves from the dilemma it poses except to find adequate substitute for the American and other Allied forces now holding the line. That's where Van Fleet and his South Korean training program comes in.

The one big hope for us at the moment in an otherwise dismal situation is that the South Korean army may become a truly formidable force. If it does, then the South Koreans may be safely entrusted with the future defense of their own country for other services or to return to normal civilian pursuits.

It would be unrealistic to imagine the South Koreans at the best could take care of their own equipment needs. These we shall most certainly have to fill, even if there is not an American soldier on Korean soil. But this would be a relatively small burden compared to what we are bearing today.

If a politician would greet his constituents with the imitation of enthusiasm which a radio or television announcer puts into his commercials, he would never fail of election.

LETTER OF THE LAW

Joe L. Cowart, a Fayette County, Kentucky, tobacco grower, overplanted his 5.9 acre allotment by one-fifth of an acre. When he discovered his mistake he appealed to the Department of Agriculture to allow him to market the tobacco and give whatever he received to the March of Dimes. His request was refused. He had to plow the excess under.

The Department of Agriculture official who handled the case was doing his duty in refusing Cowart's request. The law is explicit and it was his job to enforce it. But the purpose of the law limiting planting would have been served just as well had the farmer been allowed to sell the tobacco and give the money to the March of Dimes fund.

One fifth of an acre is not a lot of land and the crop raised on it could not have seriously affected the price of tobacco. Officials who administer such regulations should be given a certain freedom to act on their own judgment. Inflexible regulations lead to unjustice and foolish waste.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

SOCIALIST NEUTRALISM

It has been fashionable in recent years, in this country, for those in both parties who deal with international problems, to believe that a "Third Force" can save Europe from Russia. They have therefore tended to support the various Socialist groups which take a middle position between the United States and Soviet Russia. In effect, it is more and more becoming American policy, by indirection, to support neutralism in Europe.

The British Labour Party has, under the influence of Aneurin Bevan, been developing neutralistic tendencies. Although at a recent meeting of the party, the Bevan faction was defeated, its strength was apparent. It is probable that should the Labour Party return to power, Bevan will be its leader. He is a National Socialist of Marxist persuasion, who places the United States on a par with Soviet Russia from a British standpoint. He seeks, for Great Britain, a balance of power between the United States and Soviet Russia, with Great Britain allied to neither but benefiting from both.

While the British Labour Party has never been in agreement with the United States on its China policy or the Korean War, it is possible to say with accuracy that the Conservative Party has been of divided opinion and not altogether favorably disposed. Great Britain, whether Labour or Conservative, desired that the United States recognize Soviet China, as the British did, with a view to assisting British trade. Both parties were antagonistic to General Douglas MacArthur.

The British forces assigned to the Korean War amount to about 23,000 as compared to 600,000 Americans. American casualties have amounted to approximately 120,000; British go over 3,000; Americans killed amount to about 20,000; the British killed to over 500.

Yet, the British insist upon determining the policy of this war. So far as the British are concerned, the re-establishment of the 38th parallel ended the Korean War. Yet Americans are being killed there every day.

In a full dress debate on this subject in the House of Commons, the following resolution was introduced by Mr. Noel-Baker (Labour):

"That this House, while appreciating that the Government and armed forces of the United States of America have borne the major share of the burden of resisting armed aggression in Korea, regrets the failure of Her Majesty's Government to secure effective consultation prior to recent developments, including consultation on the timing of certain recent air operations; and considers that improved arrangements should now be made to enable such consultation to take place between the governments principally concerned on issues of United Nations policy in the Far East."

It is important to note that this is what he proposed:

"He agreed that military operations could not be run by a committee—there must be a command—and that 16 governments could not be told in advance about impending plans and operations . . . but he maintained that we could have not only a British deputy chief of staff, but a more fully integrated command under General Mark Clark, and a small but strong political sub-committee of the United Nations to study and consider at high level the big political issues as they arose.

"But more adequate machinery would not suffice if the government failed to assert their right to consultation. . . ."

Churchill came to our defense. It is interesting to note some of the things he said:

"But more adequate machinery would not suffice if the government failed to assert their right to consultation. . . ."

Churchill came to our defense. It is interesting to note some of the things he said:

". . . What the Communists had lost in the field they recovered at the haggling table of Panmunjom. If they compared the position today with what it was a year ago, they could see how shrewd and well-timed was the Russian request for an armistice and how heavy had been the cost to the American armies who were bearing nine-tenths of the burden and the brunt of the war in Korea. . . .

"It was said that the United States forces had had 32,000 casualties in the bickering on the front during the armistice negotiations. We had 1,200. . . ."

I wish to call atention to the fact that I wrote, at the time that the armistice was proposed, that this would happen. I say this not in pride but rather to point out that this has always been the way of the Chinese Communists; that Chiang Kai-shek lost Manchuria and North China because he was forced by the United States to accept a similar armistice with the Chinese Communists.

That Body of Yours

EXERCISE PAYS DIVIDENDS

We have only to look at the surface of the human body, with its hundreds of muscles, to realize that they were placed there for a purpose. Man is covered with muscle from the top of his head to the soles of his feet. In prehistoric times, man worked or exercised these muscles in his pursuit of food, but today there is so much done for him that he scarcely uses these muscles. It is for this reason, that is, the lack of need to exercise his muscles, that physicians, while pointing out the dangers of severe or hard exercise in the elderly, suggest vigorous exercise for the young, moderate exercise for the middle-aged and very light exercise—walking and a few bending exercises—for the elderly.

When little or no exercise is being taken, there is lack of appetite, feeble heart beat, low blood pressure, constipation.

Some years ago in earlier investigations, Dr. A. Weiss studied the effect of muscular exertion on hypertension (high blood pressure) and in the German Medical Journal he describes studies on patients with hypotension (low blood pressure). Persons with normal blood pressure served as controls.

It was found that after the period of recovery that followed the exertion (two to three minutes in physical examination for insurance or the armed forces) patients with low blood pressure showed an increase in blood pressure, whereas many of those with hypertension (high blood pressure) showed a decrease in blood pressure. The exertion (exercise) acts as a stimulus in hypotension and as a sedative (quieter) in hypertension, that is, it acts as a counterregulator.

We learn that in low blood pressure, usually individuals under weight and taking little or no exercise, the use of their muscles in any exertion raises the blood pressure and they feel stronger and more willing to work or exercise. On the other hand, the individual with high blood pressure, by taking regular systematic exercise, can gradually get it down or nearly to normal and it will remain there as long as he continues his exercise and particularly if he loses some excess fat, either by exercise or by cutting down on his food.

Remember, then, the muscles were meant to be used and that is why regular exercise, even if only five to ten minutes daily, increases appetite, strengthens the heart and lowers the blood pressure. And, where blood pressure is low, it is increased by exercise.

Right in the Breadbasket

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—To understand the inside on the Taft-Eisenhower breakfast last week you have to know something about the pressures brought on both men by friends and advisers.

Among Eisenhower's friends, some considered the statement by Taft after the breakfast to be abject surrender by the victor at Chicago to the man he defeated at Chicago. That was why Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon immediately scratched his name off the Ike list.

Some of these friends feel that never before has a candidate been so humiliated in public as when Taft told newsmen he had written the "joint" 7-page statement in Cincinnati before he came to breakfast. At least, they say, he might have preserved the fiction that the two had worked it out together.

Just a few weeks ago, they point out, Eisenhower walked out of the Chicago Convention the biggest man in America, considered a sure bet to win. Today, two months after Chicago, he has to accept policy dictated by the man he defeated.

However, others of Ike's friends point to the terrific pressures he was under. In Massachusetts, he knew that Taft supporters were so bitter that Senator Lodge hadn't dared feature in his campaign literature the fact that he was once Ike's campaign manager. In Indiana, state GOP chairman Cale Holder, strong Taft supporter, reported that many of his cohorts were dragging their feet.

In Cleveland, Ike personally found how tough it was to dent the Taft forces when he spoke at a private dinner to try to pry open Taft pocketbooks. The response was not overwhelming. Taft money-men say that Wall street nominated Eisenhower, so Wall Street can now finance him.

And what made things worse was when Congressman George Bender, a Taft supporter, was barred from the dining room by state chairman Ray Bliss. Seething mad, Bender walked out.

Speakers' Sabotage

In Washington, two Taft men—Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota and Congressman Charley Halleck of Indiana—are in charge of the speakers bureau. And when Ike-supporter Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts offered to make some speeches in his home state, Massachusetts, nothing happened. For four weeks he wasn't called on. Finally, when he complained at the inactivity, Taftite Halleck assigned Saltonstall to speak in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio—three bedrock Taft states where a man of Saltonstall's political background would be valueless.

Again, when Ike man Sen. George Aiken of Vermont volunteered to speak, he wasn't given a single engagement in New England where he would be most effective.

Thus, with the GOP split even worse than generally suspected, Eisenhower yielded to midroad advisers who said he had to heal the Taft breach.

Two of these advisers—Sens. Frank Carlson of Kansas and Alex Smith of New Jersey—arranged the breakfast preliminaries. Smith, vacationing in Canada, spent part of a month urging Taft to get wholeheartedly into the campaign, argued that Taft and Ike would be an unbeatable team: Ike on foreign policy, Taft on domestic issues.

Taft, at first, balked, said his wing of the party was opposed to Dewey control, would be flatly opposed to having Dewey in the cabinet.

Taft's 7-Page Statement

When Taft got to New York the night before the breakfast, he handed Senator Carlson a copy of the now-famous "joint" statement. In a corner was written in green ink: "For Senator Carlson. To be given only to General Eisenhower."

However, Carlson did not give the statement to Eisenhower the night before, as Taft intended. He kept it—presumably because he feared Ike might get sore, and that it was better for the two men to get acquainted personally before haggling over legal and political phraseology.

Next morning, at breakfast, Taft broke the ice with: "I want to congratulate you for taking off the gloves."

He added that it would be fatal to try to "coast through this campaign" as Dewey did in 1948. Then, as the conversation progressed, Taft diagnosed the "heartbeat" of the Republican Party as "west of the Alleghenies," and predicted:

"If that section is properly handled, we will win in November."

Regarding the eastern states, Taft said that, if Ike continued a fighting campaign, hitting the issues and naming names, "you won't do any worse than Dewey did in 1948, with the possible exception of New York which will be very tough to carry."

By naming names, Taft indicated that he had in mind President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson.

Taft said he thought Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Iowa would be safely in Republican hands, and that prospects also looked good in the far west, including California, where, he said, "Senator Nixon will be of tremendous help."

Taft thought there might be a good chance for Ike to pick up two southern states — Texas and Louisiana—but was not as optimistic as Ike regarding the others.

European Disagreement

Eisenhower was a little surprised when Taft pulled the seven-page statement from his pocket. Taft had assumed Ike had already read it. However, they agreed on most of it, Eisenhower penciling in some changes.

Their only real disagreement was regarding aid to Europe and the NATO armies, which the general considered important to block the spread of communism.

"On that subject," said Taft with a smile, "let us say that our differences are a matter of degree. I will support you even though we may not see eye-to-eye on everything."

On domestic policies, Eisenhower said, "these are more in your field than mine, senator," and Taft had his way on that.

The general invited Taft to appoint a man on his strategy board, and to that end Taft met with Gov. Sherman Adams the same day. This was a bit of a pill for Taft to swallow since he was boiling mad at the governor of New Hampshire both after Chicago and for leaking the premature news of the Taft-Ike meeting.

Eisenhower also invited Taft to a strategy meeting in New York this week to look over his speech to be made before the A.F. of L. convention. It was indicated that he would defer to Taft's views in that speech.

After the breakfast was over Eisenhower privately asked Senator Carlson why he had not given him the advance copy of Taft's proposed statement. Carlson explained that he wanted the two men to sit down fresh, and work it out spontaneously.

"You would do that to me," Ike retorted.

Today in Washington

Requests Are Made Early for Prediction on Outcome of Presidential Campaign

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 17—People are writing in even at this early date to ask for a prediction as to who will win the presidential election. There is one all-important question, however, which has to be answered first: How intense is the resentment against the party in power? Is it deep-seated or just superficial?

If the American people disapprove of the Democratic party's record in Washington, then by this time they already have made up their minds to vote against it. If, on the other hand, they approve of the record as made by President Truman and his administration, then all the campaign speeches, television shows and "whistle-stop" tours of the Republicans aren't going to change it.

For the real issue is the record of the last four years in Washington. It isn't a question of which candidate is superior—the electorate for the most part will hardly have a chance to make a minute comparison or a balanced judgment in the next month and a half. Many people are writing in already saying they are bored with the speeches of the candidates. This to some extent has always been true—candidates influence the votes of a certain segment, but the basic trend is influenced by what has been happening and by what has been said in four years and not just in the last four months before election day.

What do 50,000,000 people think about? Mass opinion generally is influenced by fundamentally simple things. The voters usually are influenced by an impression they form as to whether a party in power has made a good record or a bad record. What do the voters have in common? Sometimes, for example, bad mail service tells them that an administration which can't deliver letters promptly is probably bad in other respects, too. This happened in 1920. It could happen again.

The issue isn't "change" as such. Governor Dewey argued in 1948 that "it is time for a change." But the average man doesn't understand "change" as a political issue. If you ask him whether he wants a "change," he is more likely to ask "change what?" or "change to what?" This makes the issue personal when it isn't personal at all. It isn't necessary to get sick oneself to understand the importance of having honest inspection of meat.

Hence the real question is whether the administration has made the kind of record that has made it undesirable to reward the Democratic party with another four years of power.

The bank cashier who repeatedly failed to lock the cash drawers of the bank may select a vigilant cashier as a successor and might recommend a friend, too. Does that mean the negligent, careless cashier goes scot free and suffers no penalty for allowing the robberies to happen?

While the issue in the "mess in Washington" involves several dishonest persons in the official entourage, the question isn't whether Truman is honest or Stevenson is honest or Eisenhower is honest. All three are men of integrity. But tolerance of dishonesty by the administration in power is bad, and delay in rooting it out is indefensible. A political fidelity which supersedes all other instincts is in some respects even worse. This has been a primarily political regime here—political in its worse sense. It has "covered up" scandals.

It's the political system in Washington which smells to high heaven and, if the American people don't mind the stench and think it will be ended merely by putting in another Democrat as president, there isn't much doubt about the outcome of the election—It will be a landslide for Stevenson.

If, on the other hand, the American people are sick and tired of the "Mess in Washington" and want to show their indignation and disapproval of political unmorality, with its unsavory ramifications in so many different departments and agencies of the government, then the outcome will be a decisive vote against the Democratic Party, which means a landslide for Eisenhower.

It doesn't seem to this writer that there is going to be a close election. The tide will run decisively one way or the other—either in approving the Democratic record as subject to a cleansing by a new Democratic executive or as disapproving the entire record and "mess" completely and calling for a new administration to clean it up from top to bottom.

Neither Eisenhower nor Stevenson is making a very good campaign in a strategy sense. The Republican nominee is somewhat better than he was. He seems to recognize now the importance of attack as a tactic, but he hasn't become specific and hasn't told the country what "the Washington mess" is all about—giving chapter and verse.

The Democratic nominee, on the other hand, is relatively unknown and isn't making himself any better known by highbrow or witty speeches on subjects rather difficult for the average man to understand anyhow. The late Franklin D. Roosevelt would have used a different style in speechwriting.

It looks now as if the most spectacular part of the campaign will be the Truman-Taft battle on the stump. Each is a seasoned campaigner but President Truman will lack the prestige he had in 1948. For he has made so many blunders—particularly last spring in the steel-seizure "mess"—that his words will not carry the weight they carried four years ago. Senator Taft, on the other hand, has risen in stature and stands before the American people as a good loser, a man without rancor and a man who wants to debate details as well as principles.

The Taft-Truman debate may turn out to be an influential factor in the campaign, for it seems probable that Senator Taft will not hesitate to spell out the Truman record. Not only the president but Governor Stevenson will be unable to ignore his specific attacks. If Taft does a job of explaining the "mess," the resentment against the things exposed may run deep enough to defeat the Democratic ticket.

It seems to me that General Eisenhower has made the competence and character of his old friend and professional patron, George Marshall, a major issue in the campaign. Truck Overturns, Blocks Highway

A 1952 truck carrying 12 tons of blacktop blew out a tire on a sharp turn on the Millbrook road, Port Ewen, about 1:45 p. m. Tuesday, left the road and spilled about three tons of blacktop on the highway, the sheriff's office reported.

The truck, which broke a light pole, was owned and operated by Albert Arnett of West Haverstraw. The vehicle, although not turning over following the mishap, was a total wreck, Earl Conro, identification officer of the sheriff's office said. The front wheels of the truck were completely knocked off.

Traffic was held up about five hours while the road was being cleared by the town of Esopus Highway Department, Conro said.

Eisenhower Favors

triotic American union leaders must swear that they are not Communists, then the employers with whom they deal should be subject to the same requirement.

"I would not mind, every morning, swearing an oath of loyalty to the United States of America," the general declared. "I would be proud every night to give my sworn oath that I am not a Communist.

"But I would resent doing this and I would resent it bitterly, if I were singled out to do it because I happened to be a veteran, or someone who lived in Kansas—or if I were a labor union official."

In reference to his Democratic rival for the presidency, Eisenhower declared:

"My opponent made plain on Labor Day that he wanted powers, as President, to compel arbitration. That is exactly what I am against. If you want the basic, irreconcilable difference between his position and mine, there it is. He and his party embrace compulsion. I reject compulsion!"

Needed in Government

Eisenhower declared further:

"Certainly there is enough responsible leadership in industry and in the union movement on which to build a firm foundation for labor peace. It is time we got some responsible leadership in government so that we can get on with that job."

The wartime allied commander in Europe said the invitation to address the convention gave him an opportunity he long had wanted.

"That is, to stand before the American Federation of Labor and say to you directly that the free world will be forever in your debt for your help in winning the war."

The general said he also wanted "to pay tribute to the magnificent work you have done in opposing communism and Communist influences among working people in other countries."

"Our American labor organizations have been giving aid and support to their brothers who are fighting communism where the fight is toughest," he said.

Free World in Debt

"The whole free world is in their debt," he added.

In discussing communism, Eisenhower said:

"The blunt truth is that American labor has been smarter and quicker in meeting these problems than the administration. For example, I never heard you call the problem of a Communist agent in a high policy-making position 'a red herring.'"

(This was reference to an expression Truman used in 1948 when he accused the Republican Congress of dragging a "red herring" across the trail to keep people's minds off the cost of living. At the time he was pressing for anti-inflation controls. The red herring remark alluded to congressional investigations of alleged involvement of government officials with Communist spies during the war.)

$40,000 for Street

Board of Public Works showed too little consideration for the wishes of the Council in its handling of funds appropriated for street improvements.

"For the past seven years," he said, "Abeel street has been in every bond issue but has not been touched yet."

The Council voted a $34,000 bond anticipation note to provide funds under the appropriation. An amount of $6,000 has already been set aside for the work.

Reporting the resolutions for appropriation and bond anticipation note were the finance committee and the laws and rules committee. The finance committee is composed of Alderman Schecter, chairman; Martin W. Golden (ninth Ward) and Alderman Radel. The laws and rules committee is composed of Abram D. Relyea, (11th Ward) chairman; John Dolan (Eighth Ward), Robert Cullum (12th Ward), James Ryan (10th Ward) and Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly.

Alderman Ryan was absent.

Hurley Taxpayer Group Has Session

Approximately 150 persons, it was reported, attended a meeting of the month-old Hurley Taxpayers' Association in the Hurley School auditorium last night to hear speakers and reports and to discuss questions of interest to the taxpayer.

Frank G. Essick, director of field operations for the Citizen's Public Expenditure Bureau of Albany, John Grady of the Town of Esopus Taxpayers' Association and William Petrie, president of the Hurley Association, addressed the meeting.

Essick supplemented his talk with charts showing how taxes were collected and the sources from which they were derived.

He pointed out that in 1951 the federal government took 39 cents of each tax dollar and the state and local governments 61 cents but that in 1950 the picture was exactly reversed, the federal government taking 61 cents of each tax dollar and the state and local governments only 31 cents.

Essick said that from 1789 to 1945, a total of 157 years, the federal government had spent 489 billion dollars whereas, in the past seven years, it had spent 330 billion. Total federal expenditures during the 164-year period amounted to 819 billion dollars, he said, pointing out, however, that only 561 billion dollars in taxes had been collected, leaving a total national debt of 258 billion dollars.

He said that this was a debt of $6,600 for every family of four in the United States.

Grady spoke in general terms of the effective organization and function of a taxpayers' association, stating that such an association could work with local officials and should oppose them only if the officials fail to cooperate in the interests of the taxpayer.

Petrie presented a comparison of taxes in the years 1946 and 1951, pointing out that general taxes went up 104 per cent during this period. He said that he based his figures on assessed values and rates in each of those years.

Following the speakers a sound film, "Our Money's Worth," supplied by the Citizen's Public Expenditure Bureau, was shown.

Object of the association, Petrie pointed out, is to make people conscious of what they are being taxed and to see that they get a dollar's worth of value.

Korean War Vets Urged to Record Discharges Now

Director Howard Shurter of the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency, and State Veteran Counselor Donald Moore today urged Korean veterans who have not as yet recorded their honorable discharge with the county clerk to do so immediately.

Shurter advised veterans to record their discharge without further delay, so that in the event of loss or destruction of the original copy there will be a permanent record of their military service. Moreover, Shurter pointed out that for any purpose for which an original discharge is required in New York state, a certified copy of the county clerk's record is acceptable.

Counselor Moore and Director Shurter said that for many federal benefits, a photostatic copy of their discharge is needed, so when a veteran records his discharge a photostatic copy is furnished, free of charge. The Ulster County Veterans Service Agency is at 32 Main street, with branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

McGrath Called

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—Former Atty.-Gen. J. Howard McGrath today makes his second public appearance before House investigators of the Justice Department. A judiciary subcommittee headed by Rep. Chelf (D-Ky.) called McGrath primarily to ask him about the 1951 St. Louis grand jury probe of tax scandals. McGrath was in office when District Judge George H. Moore rejected an alleged "whitewash" attempt and demanded a grand jury investigation that led to the indictment of James P. Finnegan on charges of misconduct in office. Finnegan, a friend of President Truman, was collector of taxes in St. Louis.

Stresses Spanish Bases

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—Sen. Long (D-La.) said today this country is "missing a bet" in failing to reach agreement with Spain on establishing bases there to aid in the defense of Europe. Just back from a 16,000 mile tour of U. S. bases from Greenland to Turkey, Long told reporters that in his opinion the Spanish were not asking too high a price to participate in western defense plans.

Childs' Widow Dies

County Vols Want Two-Way Radio From Supervisors

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association last night moved to send a committee to the Board of Supervisors to ask for a two-way radio system similar to those which aid volunteers in Dutchess and Sullivan counties.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy of Kingston explained the results of surveys made on two-way radio equipment for rural firemen and Arthur Chipp, of Kerhonkson, moved for appointment of the committee. Dewey Borden, Sullivan county coordinator said two-way radio was highly beneficial in his county.

300 at Meeting

The firemen met at Kerhonkson as guests of the Accord, Napanoch and Kerhonkson fire departments. The session, conducted by Percy Bush of Ulster Hose Co. president, attracted nearly 300 volunteers.

The M. F. Whitney Co. No. 2, of Shandaken, was voted in as the 63rd member company.

Chief Edward Mains of Port Ewen reported on the association's program for Fire Prevention Week which starts Oct. 5.

Fire Chief Murphy also explained the new multiple residence law.

The association adjourned in memory to Fred Scholl, of Weiner Hose Company, Kingston; Harvey Rappelyea, of Ulster Hose Company and Fred Becker, of Connelly, recently deceased.

Rural Area Woman Wins Wrist Watch

Mrs. Hyman Gershuny, Creek Locks housewife, can time her chores to the second now, thanks to her poetic leanings.

She told a reporter today she had received a handsome wrist watch for completing a jingle in the Scuffy shoe polish contest.

Mrs. Gershuny added the last line to the verse that went like this:

Now, when shoes get scuffed and shabby
There's no reason to despair
Just treat those scuffed-up shoes to SCUFFY

And the top'll shine till the soles go bare

The jingle appeared in a Freeman advertisement inviting readers to compete for a grand prize of $1,000 or a year's supply of groceries and 25 additional gifts of Bulova watches.

Mrs. Gershuny feels proud of her prize considering that thousands submitted jingle lines.

She's glad she reads The Freeman too, and is saving the copy with the ad that invited her to enter the contest.

Taft Begins Drive

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio today launches a 19-state coast to coast speaking campaign almost as intense as those of the two Republican standard bearers. His address in Springfield, Ohio, today touches off a schedule which the GOP national campaign headquarters said yesterday "places him second only to Dwight D. Eisenhower and Sen. Richard M. Nixon in the degree of extensive campaigning being undertaken by any of the country's major Republicans."

Would Protect Patients

Castel Gandolfo, Italy, Sept. 17 (AP)—Pope Pius XII says medical research must take into account the interests of the patient, the community and medical science, itself, before experimenting with treatments on living persons. "It is an evidence law," the Pope said, "that before applying new methods on living men, research on bodies should be performed or the method of experimenting on animals used."

The rise was almost entirely fractional with a few leaders extending their gains to between 1 and 2 points.

Trading was not especially vigorous and proceeded at a rate slightly under the 1,140,000 shares traded yesterday.

Good upside progress was made by some motors, rails, coppers, aircrafts, and radio-television issues.

Steels maintained a steady appearance as did utilities, chemicals, distillers, and air lines. Some oils were backward.

Trans World Airlines was ahead. Company officials have estimated that revenues currently are good and will remain satisfactory the rest of the year.

Bull Brings Dollar

West Springfield, Mass., Sept. 17 (AP)—The 860-pound champion Aberdeen Black Angus bull owned by 13-year-old Peter Miller of Millbrook, N. Y., was sold at auction last night for a dollar a pound. The bull was adjudged grand champion steer in both the 4-H beef and open class judging the day before at the Eastern States Exposition. Fully 141 beef steers were sold at the auction, bringing an average of 41 cents a pound for a total of $53,463. The average price was about seven cents a pound below last year's sale average.

Stang Gives Talk On Constitution's 165th Anniversary

Prior to the routine business of the day, County Judge John M. Cashin this morning at the opening of County court called attention to the observance of Constitution Day, the anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution at Philadelphia 165 years ago.

Members of the Ulster County Bar Association were present and Charles Gaffney, its president, introduced Frederick Stang, county attorney, who spoke on the Constitution and its importance to the free world.

Attorney Stang said that following the Constitutional Convention from May to September 1787 the document was signed on Sept. 17th. George Washington, who presided over the convention, and those men who worked on the historic document were men of foresight and wisdom, said Stang, for this document, with its following amendments, has stood the test of time and is the protector against tyranny from within and without.

U. S. Withstands Chaos

Today this country and the world is in a state of chaos but the United States, because of the provisions of the Constitution has been able to withstand the efforts of those who seek to destroy us. There are elements abroad seeking to destroy the freedom which the Constitution grants us, Stang said, and he cautioned all to be vigilant.

There are those who will not stand up and proclaim their belief in our form of government Stang said. He urged that all have no hesitancy in showing their love for their country. "Be an American every day."

At the conclusion of Attorney Stang's remarks, Judge Cashin thanked the members of the Bar Association for attendance.

Two Cases for Friday

Judge Cashin disposed of criminal matters brought to his attention by District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, and moved two cases, The People vs. Louis J. Turck and Wilfred James Seymour to Friday at 10 o'clock.

An action to clarify a deed was taken up. Philip Korn of Kerhonkson sought to clarify a deed drawn in 1889 on property now owned by Mrs. Marguerite C. Markle. Following testimony and documentary proof, Judge Cashin directed submission of findings of fact and conclusions of law.

An action for breach of contract brought by K. & K. Conditioning, Inc., against Isidoro Romeron was moved for trial. J. T. Mazzeo for plaintiff and A. O. Maharay, Jr., for defendant.

"I would not mind, every morning, swearing an oath of loyalty to the United States of America," the general declared. "I would be proud every night to give my sworn oath that I am not a Communist.

"But I would resent doing this and I would resent it bitterly, if I were singled out to do it because I happened to be a veteran, or someone who lived in Kansas—or if I were a labor union official."

In reference to his Democratic rival for the presidency, Eisenhower declared:

"My opponent made plain on Labor Day that he wanted powers, as President, to compel arbitration. That is exactly what I am against. If you want the basic, irreconcilable difference between his position and mine, there it is. He and his party embrace compulsion. I reject compulsion!"

Eisenhower declared further:

The wartime allied commander in Europe said the invitation to address the convention gave him an opportunity he long had wanted.

The general said he also wanted "to pay tribute to the magnificent work you have done in opposing communism and Communist influences among working people in other countries."

"Our American labor organizations have been giving aid and support to their brothers who are fighting communism where the fight is toughest," he said.

Free World in Debt

"The whole free world is in their debt," he added.

In discussing communism, Eisenhower said:

"The blunt truth is that American labor has been smarter and quicker in meeting these problems than the administration. For example, I never heard you call the problem of a Communist agent in a high policy-making position 'a red herring.'"

(This was reference to an expression Truman used in 1948 when he accused the Republican Congress of dragging a "red herring" across the trail to keep people's minds off the cost of living. At the time he was pressing for anti-inflation controls. The red herring remark alluded to congressional investigations of alleged involvement of government officials with Communist spies during the war.)

$40,000 for Street

Board of Public Works showed too little consideration for the wishes of the Council in its handling of funds appropriated for street improvements.

"For the past seven years," he said, "Abeel street has been in every bond issue but has not been touched yet."

The Council voted a $34,000 bond anticipation note to provide funds under the appropriation. An amount of $6,000 has already been set aside for the work.

Hurley Taxpayer Group Has Session

Approximately 150 persons, it was reported, attended a meeting of the month-old Hurley Taxpayers' Association in the Hurley School auditorium last night to hear speakers and reports and to discuss questions of interest to the taxpayer.

Frank G. Essick, director of field operations for the Citizen's Public Expenditure Bureau of Albany, John Grady of the Town of Esopus Taxpayers' Association and William Petrie, president of the Hurley Association, addressed the meeting.

Essick supplemented his talk with charts showing how taxes were collected and the sources from which they were derived.

He pointed out that in 1951 the federal government took 39 cents of each tax dollar and the state and local governments 61 cents but that in 1950 the picture was exactly reversed, the federal government taking 61 cents of each tax dollar and the state and local governments only 31 cents.

Essick said that from 1789 to 1945, a total of 157 years, the federal government had spent 489 billion dollars whereas, in the past seven years, it had spent 330 billion. Total federal expenditures during the 164-year period amounted to 819 billion dollars, he said, pointing out, however, that only 561 billion dollars in taxes had been collected, leaving a total national debt of 258 billion dollars.

He said that this was a debt of $6,600 for every family of four in the United States.

Grady spoke in general terms of the effective organization and function of a taxpayers' association, stating that such an association could work with local officials and should oppose them only if the officials fail to cooperate in the interests of the taxpayer.

Petrie presented a comparison of taxes in the years 1946 and 1951, pointing out that general taxes went up 104 per cent during this period. He said that he based his figures on assessed values and rates in each of those years.

Following the speakers a sound film, "Our Money's Worth," supplied by the Citizen's Public Expenditure Bureau, was shown.

Object of the association, Petrie pointed out, is to make people conscious of what they are being taxed and to see that they get a dollar's worth of value.

Korean War Vets Urged to Record Discharges Now

Director Howard Shurter of the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency, and State Veteran Counselor Donald Moore today urged Korean veterans who have not as yet recorded their honorable discharge with the county clerk to do so immediately.

Shurter advised veterans to record their discharge without further delay, so that in the event of loss or destruction of the original copy there will be a permanent record of their military service. Moreover, Shurter pointed out that for any purpose for which an original discharge is required in New York state, a certified copy of the county clerk's record is acceptable.

Counselor Moore and Director Shurter said that for many federal benefits, a photostatic copy of their discharge is needed, so when a veteran records his discharge a photostatic copy is furnished, free of charge. The Ulster County Veterans Service Agency is at 32 Main street, with branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

McGrath Called

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—Former Atty.-Gen. J. Howard McGrath today makes his second public appearance before House investigators of the Justice Department. A judiciary subcommittee headed by Rep. Chelf (D-Ky.) called McGrath primarily to ask him about the 1951 St. Louis grand jury probe of tax scandals. McGrath was in office when District Judge George H. Moore rejected an alleged "whitewash" attempt and demanded a grand jury investigation that led to the indictment of James P. Finnegan on charges of misconduct in office. Finnegan, a friend of President Truman, was collector of taxes in St. Louis.

Stresses Spanish Bases

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—Sen. Long (D-La.) said today this country is "missing a bet" in failing to reach agreement with Spain on establishing bases there to aid in the defense of Europe. Just back from a 16,000 mile tour of U. S. bases from Greenland to Turkey, Long told reporters that in his opinion the Spanish were not asking too high a price to participate in western defense plans.

Bernardsville, N. J., Sept. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Victoria Childs, 73, widow of William Childs, co-founder and president of the Childs' restaurant chain, died last night at Morristown Memorial Hospital.

County Vols Want Two-Way Radio From Supervisors

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association last night moved to send a committee to the Board of Supervisors to ask for a two-way radio system similar to those which aid volunteers in Dutchess and Sullivan counties.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy of Kingston explained the results of surveys made on two-way radio equipment for rural firemen and Arthur Chipp, of Kerhonkson, moved for appointment of the committee. Dewey Borden, Sullivan county coordinator said two-way radio was highly beneficial in his county.

300 at Meeting

The firemen met at Kerhonkson as guests of the Accord, Napanoch and Kerhonkson fire departments. The session, conducted by Percy Bush of Ulster Hose Co. president, attracted nearly 300 volunteers.

The M. F. Whitney Co. No. 2, of Shandaken, was voted in as the 63rd member company.

Chief Edward Mains of Port Ewen reported on the association's program for Fire Prevention Week which starts Oct. 5.

Fire Chief Murphy also explained the new multiple residence law.

The association adjourned in memory to Fred Scholl, of Weiner Hose Company, Kingston; Harvey Rappelyea, of Ulster Hose Company and Fred Becker, of Connelly, recently deceased.

Rural Area Woman Wins Wrist Watch

Mrs. Hyman Gershuny, Creek Locks housewife, can time her chores to the second now, thanks to her poetic leanings.

She told a reporter today she had received a handsome wrist watch for completing a jingle in the Scuffy shoe polish contest.

Mrs. Gershuny added the last line to the verse that went like this:

Now, when shoes get scuffed and shabby
There's no reason to despair
Just treat those scuffed-up shoes to SCUFFY

And the top'll shine till the soles go bare

The jingle appeared in a Freeman advertisement inviting readers to compete for a grand prize of $1,000 or a year's supply of groceries and 25 additional gifts of Bulova watches.

Mrs. Gershuny feels proud of her prize considering that thousands submitted jingle lines.

She's glad she reads The Freeman too, and is saving the copy with the ad that invited her to enter the contest.

Taft Begins Drive

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio today launches a 19-state coast to coast speaking campaign almost as intense as those of the two Republican standard bearers. His address in Springfield, Ohio, today touches off a schedule which the GOP national campaign headquarters said yesterday "places him second only to Dwight D. Eisenhower and Sen. Richard M. Nixon in the degree of extensive campaigning being undertaken by any of the country's major Republicans."

Would Protect Patients

Castel Gandolfo, Italy, Sept. 17 (AP)—Pope Pius XII says medical research must take into account the interests of the patient, the community and medical science, itself, before experimenting with treatments on living persons. "It is an evidence law," the Pope said, "that before applying new methods on living men, research on bodies should be performed or the method of experimenting on animals used."

Condition Is Critical

The condition of Harold Auchmoody, 20, of Wallkill, who was injured early Sunday morning when his convertible turned over on Route 28 in the village of Wallkill, was reported "still critical" this morning at St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh.

Trading was not especially vigorous and proceeded at a rate slightly under the 1,140,000 shares traded yesterday.

Good upside progress was made by some motors, rails, coppers, aircrafts, and radio-television issues.

The bull was adjudged grand champion steer in both the 4-H beef and open class judging the day before at the Eastern States Exposition. Stang Gives Talk On Constitution's 165th Anniversary

Prior to the routine business of the day, County Judge John M. Cashin this morning at the opening of County court called attention to the observance of Constitution Day, the anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution at Philadelphia 165 years ago.

Members of the Ulster County Bar Association were present and Charles Gaffney, its president, introduced Frederick Stang, county attorney, who spoke on the Constitution and its importance to the free world.

Attorney Stang said that following the Constitutional Convention from May to September 1787 the document was signed on Sept. 17th. George Washington, who presided over the convention, and those men who worked on the historic document were men of foresight and wisdom, said Stang, for this document, with its following amendments, has stood the test of time and is the protector against tyranny from within and without.

U. S. Withstands Chaos

Today this country and the world is in a state of chaos but the United States, because of the provisions of the Constitution has been able to withstand the efforts of those who seek to destroy us. There are elements abroad seeking to destroy the freedom which the Constitution grants us, Stang said, and he cautioned all to be vigilant.

There are those who will not stand up and proclaim their belief in our form of government Stang said. He urged that all have no hesitancy in showing their love for their country. "Be an American every day."

At the conclusion of Attorney Stang's remarks, Judge Cashin thanked the members of the Bar Association for attendance.

Two Cases for Friday

Judge Cashin disposed of criminal matters brought to his attention by District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, and moved two cases, The People vs. Louis J. Turck and Wilfred James Seymour to Friday at 10 o'clock.

An action to clarify a deed was taken up. Philip Korn of Kerhonkson sought to clarify a deed drawn in 1889 on property now owned by Mrs. Marguerite C. Markle. Following testimony and documentary proof, Judge Cashin directed submission of findings of fact and conclusions of law.

An action for breach of contract brought by K. & K. Conditioning, Inc., against Isidoro Romeron was moved for trial. J. T. Mazzeo for plaintiff and A. O. Maharay, Jr., for defendant.

As Pegler Sees It

from the purview of the committee the prime derelictions of both civilian and service executives in Washington, D. C. It was an adaptation of the mother quail's broken-wing trick to draw attention away from the crimes done in Washington and direct suspicion at Kimmel and Short. An attempt was made to foul up Kimmel's defense by planting a pro-Roosevelt lawyer on him and this was not altogether frustrated because it took Kimmel some time to learn what was up.

Admiral William Harrison Standley, the old boy whom Roosevelt later sent to Moscow as ambassador, told me that when he was inducted into this Roberts Committee he warned Roberts that if Kimmel and Short didn't get fair treatment he would denounce the whole disgraceful venture and defend Kimmel in a court martial. He sniffed a plot, faintly.

Kimmel and Short were smeared indelibly because their subsequent vindication did not take. Roosevelt and Truman after him, were afraid to court-martial them, although Kimmel went up and down the east coast begging for a trial so that he could face charges and accusers. Even James V. Forrestal, one of the moral heroes of the war and a physical, hero, too, flinched in that crisis and failed to do his obvious moral duty by his subordinate, Kimmel. It seemed that once men took Roosevelt's dirty shilling, whether in civil posts or in the sumptuous quarters of generals and admirals, they lost their sense of honor and didn't get fair treatment he would denounce the courage to do right.

In this campaign, Joe McCarthy's charges against George Marshall are a major issue. That would not have been so if Eisenhower had just thought a little instead of leaping impulsively to Marshall's defense. But Ike owed most of his historic grandeur to Marshall and his heart overruled his wisdom.

McCarthy did not call Marshall a traitor, as the smear-bund would have it that he did. His text is available in his book on Marshall. But he did show that Marshall was largely guilty of giving the Russians the final victory in China after American men, under his overall command, had thrashed the Japs and driven them out. Whether stupidity or evil intention was the reason, Joe leaves the citizen to decide for himself. But certainly Ike cannot expunge these damned spots by expressing his own biased opinion, however loud his voice.

Marshall had a magnificent chance and booted it. He was a terrible failure and a stupid man and, far from exhorting his claque to abuse McCarthy for certifying the record, he ought to gather up his ill-gotten medals and his tarnished stars and vanish. He was a servile fellow without the judgment or the moral gumption to fight Roosevelt, knowing that other men who did oppose him had broken themselves for their country.

The band-wagon this year is not Ike's but Joe McCarthy's, the vote in Wisconsin, after a flood of outside money had sluiced in to beat him, vindicated the greatest Red-baiter of them all.

Soon after the results were in I spoke with William Purtell, the Republican nominee against Senator William Benton, the Socialist-Democrat, in Connecticut.

"I am not going to repudiate Joe," he said. "Joe told me the only way to get the Communists out of the government is to smoke them out. I feel the same way. I don't know any better way, either."

After the meeting was called to order by Walter Kruesi, vice president, in the absence of Alf Evers, president, the reports of the secretary and treasurer were presented.

Kruesi then introduced Harold Manierre, the speaker of the afternoon. He spoke extemporaneously on the life and work of the early American composer, Lewis Edson, who taught music and singing in Woodstock in the early days, publishing books of music in 1794 and 1798. Edson died in 1820, and one of his rare books of music has been photostated through the generosity of Manierre, who, at the close of his talk, presented this photostatic copy to Miss Alice Thompson, librarian at the Woodstock Library. The gift was greeted by applause.

Tea was served by Miss Wardwell.

Foundation Play Cast Progressing

Woodstock, Sept. 17 — "We've found 1001 laughs in Ten Nights in a Barroom," Houston Richards, who is directing the annual play of the Woodstock Foundation, commented. The melodrama will be presented at the Playhouse the evenings of Oct. 10 and 11.

Laid in the village of Cedarville and dealing with the hard-fought rescue of the town drunkard from the evils of over-indulgence, Ten Nights In a Barroom will be a high point in the fall season's entertainment. An old style picnic with sideshows, music and games, arranged by Wilna Hervey and Nan Mason, the "Elsa Maxwells" of this art colony, will precede the performances, weather permitting. The picnic will be on the Playhouse grounds.

Richards expressed himself as well-pleased with progress made in whipping the show into shape. He has had six rehearsals to date, and two more are scheduled this week. The sets are to be completed this week-end by Al Bare. The following week the players will start rehearsals on the stage. There will be two full-dress rehearsals to ensure smooth performance.

Pro Actor Included

Al Gilbert, a professional actor, who has appeared in South Pacific, plays the leading role, that of Joe Morgan, the victim of drink, and will give a fine performance, Richards declared.

William Stifler plays the son of Squire Hammond, the town's rich man, who gets into bad company through association with Pond. Carl Hubbell is Sample Switchell, the town cutup. Alice Gilbert as Mehitabel Cartwright is sweet on Switchell.

Erwin Ruff has the role of Simon Slade, the bartender and Katherine Burgevin plays his wife. Vasco Pini is the town reformer, Mr. Romayne, and George Compton plays Frank the bartender's son who kills his pa in the third act. According to Richards, somebody gets killed in each act of this lurid drama.

Richard Eschmann, treasurer of the general fund, reported a balance of $19.04 on hand.

Father Swezy outlined his plans for an organization, with an executive committee, which he nominated as follows: Houston Richards, Richard Eschmann, Mrs. Frederica Milne, who in turn nominated Mrs. Margaret R. Painful cramps of "Monthly Periods" stopped or amazingly relieved in 3 out of 4 cases in doctors' own tests!

Lydia Pinkham's has a quieting effect on the uterine contractions (see chart) which often cause menstrual pain!

• Women and girls who suffer from those functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches of menstruation — who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days" — may often be suffering quite unnecessarily!

Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases tested!

Yes! Medical evidence shows Lydia Pinkham's thoroughly modern in action. It exerts a remarkably calming effect on the uterus — without the use of pain-deadening drugs!

The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's needs no proof to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you?

Take Lydia Pinkham's through the month. See if you don't get the same relief from the pains and weakness of "those days"! See if you don't feel better before and during your period!

Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new, improved Tablets, with added iron!

If you're troubled with "hot flashes" and other functional distress of "change of life"—you'll find Lydia Pinkham's wonderful for that, too!

As Pegler Sees It

from the purview of the committee the prime derelictions of both civilian and service executives in Washington, D. C. It was an adaptation of the mother quail's broken-wing trick to draw attention away from the crimes done in Washington and direct suspicion at Kimmel and Short. An attempt was made to foul up Kimmel's defense by planting a pro-Roosevelt lawyer on him and this was not altogether frustrated because it took Kimmel some time to learn what was up.

Admiral William Harrison Standley, the old boy whom Roosevelt later sent to Moscow as ambassador, told me that when he was inducted into this Roberts Committee he warned Roberts that if Kimmel and Short didn't get fair treatment he would denounce the whole disgraceful venture and defend Kimmel in a court martial. He sniffed a plot, faintly.

Kimmel and Short were smeared indelibly because their subsequent vindication did not take. Roosevelt and Truman after him, were afraid to court-martial them, although Kimmel went up and down the east coast begging for a trial so that he could face charges and accusers. Even James V. Forrestal, one of the moral heroes of the war and a physical, hero, too, flinched in that crisis and failed to do his obvious moral duty by his subordinate, Kimmel. It seemed that once men took Roosevelt's dirty shilling, whether in civil posts or in the sumptuous quarters of generals and admirals, they lost their sense of honor and the courage to do right.

In this campaign, Joe McCarthy's charges against George Marshall are a major issue. That would not have been so if Eisenhower had just thought a little instead of leaping impulsively to Marshall's defense. But Ike owed most of his historic grandeur to Marshall and his heart overruled his wisdom.

McCarthy did not call Marshall a traitor, as the smear-bund would have it that he did. His text is available in his book on Marshall. But he did show that Marshall was largely guilty of giving the Russians the final victory in China after American men, under his overall command, had thrashed the Japs and driven them out. Whether stupidity or evil intention was the reason, Joe leaves the citizen to decide for himself. But certainly Ike cannot expunge these damned spots by expressing his own biased opinion, however loud his voice.

Marshall had a magnificent chance and booted it. He was a terrible failure and a stupid man and, far from exhorting his claque to abuse McCarthy for certifying the record, he ought to gather up his ill-gotten medals and his tarnished stars and vanish. He was a servile fellow without the judgment or the moral gumption to fight Roosevelt, knowing that other men who did oppose him had broken themselves for their country.

The band-wagon this year is not Ike's but Joe McCarthy's, the vote in Wisconsin, after a flood of outside money had sluiced in to beat him, vindicated the greatest Red-baiter of them all.

Soon after the results were in I spoke with William Purtell, the Republican nominee against Senator William Benton, the Socialist-Democrat, in Connecticut.

"I am not going to repudiate Joe," he said. "Joe told me the only way to get the Communists out of the government is to smoke them out. I feel the same way. I don't know any better way, either."

All abo-o-ard!

Painful cramps of "Monthly Periods" stopped or amazingly relieved

in 3 out of 4 cases in doctors' own tests!

Lydia Pinkham's has a quieting effect on the uterine contractions (see chart) which often cause menstrual pain!

• Women and girls who suffer from those functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches of menstruation — who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days" — may often be suffering quite unnecessarily!

Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases tested!

Yes! Medical evidence shows Lydia Pinkham's thoroughly modern in action. It exerts a remarkably calming effect on the uterus — without the use of pain-deadening drugs!

The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's needs no proof to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you?

Take Lydia Pinkham's through the month. See if you don't get the same relief from the pains and weakness of "those days"! See if you don't feel better before and during your period!

Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new, improved Tablets, with added iron!

Women Put Finger On Man Picked by Police as Attacker

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—A disguised night-time auto fleet of 200 police was readied for action today to cope with a mounting wave of sex crime in New York.

A highlight of the current wave of rape and robbery by day and night occurred late yesterday when a man who tried to rape two women on a subway platform fought a gun battle with police during the rush hour.

The man, a Negro, escaped after more than a dozen shots were fired even though scores of police were rushed to block exits.

In Queens, meanwhile, a white handyman was held on two separate charges of attempted rape last night.

Caught in Auto

Police said the man, Andrew M. Keogh, 30, was identified by two women. The first said he followed her into a telephone booth and tried to attack her. When she struggled, he fled.

Shortly afterwards he approached another woman on the street nearby, police said, and tried to drag her away. She fought him off, lashing his face with her nails, and he ran away.

While police were questioning the first woman on the street, Keogh drove by in a car. A patrolman noted that he answered the description given by the woman. He pursued and arrested him.

At the station house, police said, the second woman identified Keogh as her attacker.

Accuses Women

In a reverse of the current crime problem, three detectives prowling for possible attackers of women early today rescued a man who said two women had robbed him of $75.

They said a taxi screeched to a halt near them and the driver shouted, "My passenger is yelling for a cop."

Inside the cab, detectives said, was John Alden. an advertising man from Norwich, N. Y., seated between two matronly women. Alden insisted that the women had robbed him of $75 after they took a cab ride from a bar where they'd had a drink together.

Railroad Club's 15th Anniversary

Stephen J. Keating, (right), trainmaster of the River Division of the New York Central System, brings official greetings to Kenneth E. Martin, president of the Kingston Model Railroad Club, on the occasion of the organization's 15th anniversary celebration.

Members and friends of the Kingston Model Railroad Club attended a banquet at the Comforter Hall, Wynkoop Place, Monday evening as the local club marked the 15th year of its existence. Club president Kenneth E. Martin presided at the banquet as toastmaster.

Speakers at the anniversary included club Past Presidents Henry C. Page, H. Hudson Cramer, Jr., Edward E. Safford; founder of the club, Henry P. Eighmey who sketched the early history of the group and Mrs. Kenneth E. Martin, "first lady" of the model engineering group.

Following the various remarks, two motion pictures were shown by Warren A. Russell.

During the evening the past president, H. Hudson Cramer, Jr., presented to President Martin a new diesel locomotive model which will be numbered to coincide with the date of the anniversary celebration and will be placed in operation on the Hudson Valley Lines, quarter-inch scale model railroad system of the local club.

Fulbright Talks With Stevenson

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 17 (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas flew to Springfield through a roaring rainstorm late last night and went immediately to Gov. Adlai Stevenson's office in the executive mansion.

Fulbright, who avoided giving a direct answer to the purpose of his visit, said he may stay until Thursday when Stevenson leaves for Connecticut, beginning a second major campaign trip.

While Fulbright said he is supporting Stevenson in the presidential campaign, he told newsmen he wants to hear the governor's ideas about some of the decisive issues of the campaign. Namely civil rights legislation, the Taft-Hartley Act, and Stevenson's position on Senate Rule 22, which requires a two-thirds majority vote to shut off debate.

The Arkansas senator said he agrees, in principle, with Stevenson's proposal to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act.

But he disagrees, he said, with the governor's view on Rule 22 to make a simple majority vote necessary to stop a filibuster. "I'm not for majority cloture in the Senate," Fulbright said.

On civil rights legislation, also, Fulbright said he is in general agreement with Stevenson — but he indicated he has some reservations. The governor has proposed setting up a standard of fair employment practices in the individual states, with the provision that the federal government may step in to enforce them if the states do not.

Two Killed in Accident

St. Austell, Eng., Sept. 17 (AP)—Two persons were killed and seven were injured last night when a Royal Air Force helicopter, making a demonstration night landing in St. Austell Stadium, sideslipped and crashed into the watching crowd. Co-pilot John Minifie and a spectator were killed. Three RA.F. Members of the helicopter's crew and four spectators were injured.

History's Top Blast May Come in Pacific

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 17 (AP)—The greatest explosion in history may take place at the Eniwetok atomic weapons tests this fall, according to Rep. Carl Durham (D-N. C.), acting chairman of the joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee.

In an interview with the Durham Herald yesterday, Durham declined to say whether the tests would involve the first hydrogen bomb.

Durham said that if the tests are successful, "there'll be an explosion greater than has ever been set off before. It will open up the gravest era in the history of the world."

Women Put Finger On Man Picked by Police as Attacker

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—A disguised night-time auto fleet of 200 police was readied for action today to cope with a mounting wave of sex crime in New York.

A highlight of the current wave of rape and robbery by day and night occurred late yesterday when a man who tried to rape two women on a subway platform fought a gun battle with police during the rush hour.

The man, a Negro, escaped after more than a dozen shots were fired even though scores of police were rushed to block exits.

In Queens, meanwhile, a white handyman was held on two separate charges of attempted rape last night.

Caught in Auto

Police said the man, Andrew M. Keogh, 30, was identified by two women. The first said he followed her into a telephone booth and tried to attack her. When she struggled, he fled.

Shortly afterwards he approached another woman on the street nearby, police said, and tried to drag her away. She fought him off, lashing his face with her nails, and he ran away.

While police were questioning the first woman on the street, Keogh drove by in a car. A patrolman noted that he answered the description given by the woman. He pursued and arrested him.

At the station house, police said, the second woman identified Keogh as her attacker.

Accuses Women

In a reverse of the current crime problem, three detectives prowling for possible attackers of women early today rescued a man who said two women had robbed him of $75.

They said a taxi screeched to a halt near them and the driver shouted, "My passenger is yelling for a cop."

Inside the cab, detectives said, was John Alden, an advertising man from Norwich, N. Y., seated between two matronly women. Alden insisted that the women had robbed him of $75 after they took a cab ride from a bar where they'd had a drink together.

Railroad Club's 15th Anniversary

Stephen J. Keating, (right), trainmaster of the River Division of the New York Central System, brings official greetings to Kenneth E. Martin, president of the Kingston Model Railroad Club, on the occasion of the organization's 15th anniversary celebration.

Members and friends of the Kingston Model Railroad Club attended a banquet at the Comforter Hall, Wynkoop Place, Monday evening as the local club marked the 15th year of its existence. Club president Kenneth E. Martin presided at the banquet as toastmaster.

Speakers at the anniversary included club Past Presidents Henry C. Page, H. Hudson Cramer, Jr., Edward E. Safford; founder of the club, Henry P. Eighmey who sketched the early history of the group and Mrs. Kenneth E. Martin, "first lady" of the model engineering group.

Following the various remarks, two motion pictures were shown by Warren A. Russell.

During the evening the past president, H. Hudson Cramer, Jr., presented to President Martin a new diesel locomotive model which will be numbered to coincide with the date of the anniversary celebration and will be placed in operation on the Hudson Valley Lines, quarter-inch scale model railroad system of the local club.

History's Top Blast May Come in Pacific

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 17 (AP)—The greatest explosion in history may take place at the Eniwetok atomic weapons tests this fall, according to Rep. Carl Durham (D-N. C.), acting chairman of the joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee.

In an interview with the Durham Herald yesterday, Durham declined to say whether the tests would involve the first hydrogen bomb.

Durham said that if the tests are successful, "there'll be an explosion greater than has ever been set off before. It will open up the gravest era in the history of the world."

Fulbright Talks With Stevenson

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 17 (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas flew to Springfield through a roaring rainstorm late last night and went immediately to Gov. Adlai Stevenson's office in the executive mansion.

Fulbright, who avoided giving a direct answer to the purpose of his visit, said he may stay until Thursday when Stevenson leaves for Connecticut, beginning a second major campaign trip.

While Fulbright said he is supporting Stevenson in the presidential campaign, he told newsmen he wants to hear the governor's ideas about some of the decisive issues of the campaign. Namely civil rights legislation, the Taft-Hartley Act, and Stevenson's position on Senate Rule 22, which requires a two-thirds majority vote to shut off debate.

The Arkansas senator said he agrees, in principle, with Stevenson's proposal to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act.

But he disagrees, he said, with the governor's view on Rule 22 to make a simple majority vote necessary to stop a filibuster. "I'm not for majority cloture in the Senate," Fulbright said.

On civil rights legislation, also, Fulbright said he is in general agreement with Stevenson — but he indicated he has some reservations. The governor has proposed setting up a standard of fair employment practices in the individual states, with the provision that the federal government may step in to enforce them if the states do not.

Boy Scouts to 'Get Out the Vote'

Boy Scouts in the Ulster and Greene county area will join others throughout the nation in helping to "get cut the vote" in the November election.

Rip Van Winkle Council officials estimated today that 1,500 Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers in the two-county area will take part. They plan to hand out 25,000 doorknob hangers to homes before Nov. 4. Also, 1,000 posters will be used.

Plans for the effort are being supervised by George V. Dennis, scout executive, and Francis W. Teel, field executive.

The Scouts will make two canvasses in their non-partisan effort to get all eligible voters to the polls. Before the general registration days in October, the Scouts will distribute posters reminding residents that they cannot vote if they are not registered. Just before the election they will go from door to door again to distribute doorknob hangers urging all eligible persons to cast a ballot.

Across the nation, 2,942,000 Scouts are expected to take part in a similar program, as announced in New York city last week by Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief scout executive. Speaking to nearly 2,000 leaders at the 42nd annual meeting of the National Council, Dr. Schuck said the Scouts will distribute a million posters and will place Liberty Bell cutouts on doorknobs of 30 million homes. President Truman has commended the Scout organization and has said the program "should have the continued and vigorous support of all political parties and civic organizations."

Boy Scouts to 'Get Out the Vote'

Boy Scouts in the Ulster and Greene county area will join others throughout the nation in helping to "get out the vote" in the November election.

Rip Van Winkle Council officials estimated today that 1,500 Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers in the two-county area will take part. They plan to hand out 25,000 doorknob hangers to homes before Nov. 4. Also, 1,000 posters will be used.

Plans for the effort are being supervised by George V. Dennis, scout executive, and Francis W. Teel, field executive.

The Scouts will make two canvasses in their non-partisan effort to get all eligible voters to the polls. Before the general registration days in October, the Scouts will distribute posters reminding residents that they cannot vote if they are not registered. Just before the election they will go from door to door again to distribute doorknob hangers urging all eligible persons to cast a ballot.

Across the nation, 2,942,000 Scouts are expected to take part in a similar program, as announced in New York city last week by Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief scout executive. Speaking to nearly 2,000 leaders at the 42nd annual meeting of the National Council, Dr. Schuck said the Scouts will distribute a million posters and will place Liberty Bell cutouts on doorknobs of 30 million homes. President Truman has commended the Scout organization and has said the program "should have the continued and vigorous support of all political parties and civic organizations."

Dewey also praised the Republic of Israel and said its leaders were "manifesting a statecraft which calls to mind the strength and sagacity of the great men who were called to serve as judges in the days of old."

Campaign Outlook

such a scant margin as to be highly doubtful. Kentucky has 10 electoral votes, Virginia 12.

Editors are uncertain as to whether Texas, Louisiana and Florida, with 44 electoral votes among them, will remain Democratic or hop over to the Republican camp.

When results of surveys in five Middle Atlantic and 11 western states are combined with those in in the south, newsmen turn up with these opinions, on the basis of present trends:

1. Stevenson has the edge in 11 southern and border states which are fairly or at least leaning his way. He is expected to get Arizona from the western group. It adds up to a dozen states with 114 electoral votes to toss on the line Nov. 4.

2. Five Middle Atlantic and nine mountain and western states are leaning toward Eisenhower or likely to back him. These 14 states have a total of 174 electoral votes.

Political Uncertainties

3. Three southern states plus Colorado, are political uncertainties their 50 electoral votes could go either to Stevenson or Eisenhower.

Needed to win the election. 266 electoral votes.

In the south, as in other regions, many editors and correspondents say it is too early to tell how people, particularly the independents, will vote in November.

But at this stage of the campaign, many Dixie newsmen say a trend is apparent that may bring a record vote for the Republican ticket in November even if it falls short of carrying any states.

Again, as in other regions, they cite these factors: Sentiment for a change, Eisenhower's personal popularity, "disgust with Trumanism," high taxes, "mismanagement and corruption" in government.

Civil Rights Mentioned

But in the South there also is mention of the civil rights issue and the administration's opposition to state ownership of tidelands oil.

If voter sentiment shifts later on, in advance of the election, some newsmen expect it to be in Stevenson's direction. That is the case in Arkansas, for example, and in Florida, too.

The reasons offered are that Stevenson will pick up southern supporters as he becomes better known while Eisenhower may lose a bit of ground as the first flush of enthusiasm aroused by his early September campaign trip to the South begins to fade a little.

The same survey pattern was followed in the South as elsewhere.

Associated Press members, both newspapers and radio stations, along with other newspapers and local correspondents, were asked to cooperate.

The Associated Press plans to make another survey in October.

In the South, the survey covered 13 states that have voted Democratic or State's Rights Democratic, in the last five or more presidential elections.

How They Appear

Here's the way things look politically to southern editors and correspondents:

TEXAS (24 electoral votes): Texans want a change at the White House, but editors feel the still undecided independent voters will determine whether the state wants to change to Stevenson or Eisenhower. At the moment, it's a toss-up.

Editors say Stevenson's support of the administration stand on tidelands oil sapped some of his strength among state Democratic leaders but didn't hurt him greatly with the ordinary voters.

LOUISIANA (10 electoral votes): The consensus of editors is that a majority of Louisiana voters outside of New Orleans would go for Eisenhower if they were marking their ballots today.

But the state must be listed as a political question mark because New Orleans is a big, vital and unknown factor. The city casts one-fourth of the total Louisiana vote and normally turns in a heavy Democratic majority. Three New Orleans dailies did not take part in the survey and no estimates were obtained for the city.

FLORIDA (10 electoral votes): News editors regard the state as a 50-50 split at this time. But many say they look for a pick-up in Stevenson strength when or if the enthusiasm from Eisenhower's three-city campaign tour of the state subsides and the normal Florida tendency to vote Democratic takes hold.

Forty-eight newspaper and radio news editors surveyed the political outlook in 38 counties having 88 per cent of the state's registered voters. Their composite appraisal was that Eisenhower has stepped out ahead of Stevenson in those counties. But they believe the Republican advantage there could be neutralized in the 12 missing counties, where the Democratic voting tradition runs strong.

Virginia (12 electoral votes): Democratic nominee Stevenson gets a slight nod at this point from the combined opinions of 39 newspapers and two radio stations. However, they consider the race is so tight that a switch of a few thousand votes could determine the winner.

Most newspapers said large numbers of voters still are taking a wait-and-see attitude and there are enough of them to turn the tide either way.

Kentucky (10 electoral votes): In 42 of 120 Kentucky counties covered by surveys, newspapers and radio stations consider Stevenson running ahead of Eisenhower by a slender margin.

The AP survey produced no estimates for the remainder of the state, which cast two-thirds of the total vote four years ago.

Many newsmen said it is too soon to tell. Yet several newspapers predicted their counties will shift from the Democratic to the Republican column. They list such factors as "errors of the Truman administration," a desire for a change, and popularity of the GOP Senate candidate, former Senator John Sherman Cooper.

Alabama (11 electoral votes): Gen. Eisenhower is expected to cut the usual 5 to 1 Democratic edge nearly in half but Alabama editors and political writers still consider the state safe for Stevenson.

Arkansas (8 electoral votes): Arkansas editors look for Eisenhower to draw the largest vote of any Republican presidential nominee in history—but not a big enough one to carry the state.

Mississippi (8 electoral votes): It's Stevenson out front 2 to 1, on the dope sheets of Mississippi editors.

Some newspaper editors estimate Eisenhower will capture a county here and there, or at least make a strong showing, on the basis of such issues as "mess in Washington," and "anti-administration feeling," and "civil rights, tidelands and the Senate cloture rule."

North Carolina (14 electoral votes): Adlai Stevenson will carry North Carolina, in the opinion of Tar Heel editors.

Newsmen regard Stevenson as the choice of farmers and laborers. One of them from a heavily Democratic agricultural county says that "civil rights, anti-Trumanism, etc., are over-shadowed by hard economics." Tobacco farmers, he said, fear a Republican administration would "wreck price support program."

Oklahoma (8 electoral votes): Oklahoma newsmen estimate the voters will go Democratic in November as usual, but in smaller proportions than in 1948.

On the basis of a survey touching all 77 counties, the estimates add up to a Stevenson victory by about 55,000 votes. President Truman took the state four years ago by 184,000.

Tennessee (11 electoral votes): The Democrats are going to take Tennessee again, in the composite opinion of newspapermen throughout the state. But here again the GOP is credited with the power to run up a record, if losing, vote.

South Carolina (8 electoral votes): South Carolina newspapers that reached into 44 or 46 counties estimate Gov. Stevenson will have a 2 to 1 edge in spite of booming Eisenhower-for-president sentiment. Farmers and textile workers are described as offering the Democratic nominee his strongest backing.

Yet some surveyors said conditions are too unsettled now to estimate just what will happen on Nov. 4.

West Virginia (8 electoral votes): The combined estimate of 20 West Virginia editors adds up to a belief that the state still is Democratic, as it has been for 20 years. Their surveys took in only 16 of 55 counties, but those counties cast more than half the vote for the state in 1948.

Georgia (12 electoral votes): Georgia, too, is going to remain Democratic by a comfortable margin, in the opinion of those newspaper editors and writers who participated in the survey. They estimate Stevenson would ring up a 3 to 2 victory if the vote were taken today. That compares with a 3 to 1 edge Truman held over Dewey in 1948.

Gets Emperor Portrait

Tokyo (AP)—A school in Akita, Northern Japan, recently asked for and received a portrait of Emperor Hirohito, something Japanese schools have not had since the war. The school placed the imperial photograph in a place of honor in a special alcove. This prompted a writer for Asahi Shimbun to wonder in print if emperor worship was being revived. Before the war, it was compulsory for schools to have a picture of the emperor in a place of honor. School opened with a bow to the imperial picture. After the war, when the emperor renounced his "divinity," the practice was dropped and the pictures came down.

For every weapon of offense, there is a corresponding weapon of defense. In today's hand, for example, declarer tried a safety play, but East countered with a falsecard.

West opened the queen of clubs, and South won with the king. South surveyed the situation and noted that the contract was ice-cold if he could draw trumps with the loss of only one trump trick.

The best way to handle this kind of trump suit is to begin by laying down the ace. It is then possible to enter dummy and lead another heart towards the queen. If South suspects that West started with the doubleton king, he may decide to play a low heart instead of the queen at the second trick.

If South decides that East has the king of hearts, he can play the queen at the second trick, and this play will work every bit as well as a normal finesse.

In this case both the normal finesse and the safety play would have succeeded. East threw a monkey wrench into the works, however, by dropping the jack of hearts when South led the ace.

South wondered if East had the doubleton king-jack of hearts or only the singleton jack. If East still had the blank king left, almost any play would work. If West had the rest of the hearts, however, it was vital to lead a low heart from the South hand and finesse dummy's eight.

After thinking this over carefully, South duly continued by leading a low heart and finessed dummy's eight. This, of course, was just what East had hoped for. He pounced on this trick with the nine of hearts, and drew another trump with the king. The defenders could not be prevented from winning a spade and a diamond, and the contract was thus defeated.

'Boys Town' in Indo-China

Hanoi, Indo-China (AP)—There's a "Boys Town" in Indo-China, too. It's right here in Hanoi — headquarters city for the French Union forces warring against the Communist-led Vietminh. The real name of "Boys Town" is "Cite du Christ Roi"—the City of Christ, the King. It's an institution run by Catholic priests and sisters to help orphaned boys—whether they drift in from territory held by the Vietminh or the French Union forces. Father Paul Seitz, of the Paris Foreign Missions, is hopeful that "Boys Town" may someday have quarters for 1,000 war orphans. Right now, 450 boys make up its "citizens."

Leftover Egg Whites

You can safely keep leftover egg white for ten days if you put them in a tightly covered jar and store them in your refrigerator. Use them for prune whip, angel cake, or a meringue.

Serving on the committee for raising the funds are the Rev. Edgar Raynis, Vernard B. Wager, James Leetch and Joseph Evans.

Miss Gertrude Kopaski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kopaski, is attending the New Paltz State Teachers College. Miss Kopaski is a graduate of the Wallkill Central School, class of 1952.

The Plattekill Rod and Gun Club met Monday evening when a discussion was held on the new hunting laws of the state, and the enrollment of eligible members. Russell Carpenter, president of the organization, announced that all residents living within the voting district of the Town of Plattekill would be accepted in the club.

Members of the Plattekill Home Bureau met September 9 at the Plattekill School, when Mrs. Delphin Bilbao, newly-elected chairman, was in charge of the meeting. Announcement was made of the annual rally of Ulster County Home Bureau units to be held in Kingston on Tuesday, Sept. 30.

The Rev. Edgar Raynis, pastor of Plattekill and Rossville Methodist Churches officiated at funeral services for Joseph J. Klein, 47, who died September 8 at St. Luke's Hospital, after a brief illness. Mr. Klein was a resident of Plattekill for about 14 years..

Plattekill is proud of Mrs. Charles Franklin, first class winner in the singing contest held recently at Lake Katrine Grange. Mrs. Franklin, representing the local Grange, will compete at an inter-county contest at the Little Britain Grange on Thursday evening, Sept. 25. Mrs. Albina Orlowski will accompany her on the piano. Having lived here three years, Mrs. Franklin is a member of Plattekill Methodist Church, Home Bureau and Grange. She is attending the State College at New Paltz.

Being treated at the State Rehabilitation Hospital at West Haverstraw is Richard Romero, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Romero of Casa Los Andes. Receiving treatment at the Benedictine Hospital in Kingston is Anthony Amore, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Greene of this locality. Roland Carpenter, 26, remains a patient at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh.

Following the closing of the garbage disposal grounds on the Lembo property in Modena, a similar lot has been made available on the farm of Tony Venuti, north of Plattekill and west of the Ardonia Plattekill road.

Congo Population Booms

Leopoldville, Belgian Congo (AP) — The Belgian Congo's tremendous economic boom in the last few years has pumped more than 8,000 whites into the colony. Truman Says It's Not So He Allowed Reds in Offices

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—President Truman asserted today that it is "a big lie" to say he tolerates Communists in this nation's government.

And he accused those who say so of employing a tactic used by the Communists themselves, a tactic he described as "the big lie technique." That technique, Truman said, "was developed by the Communists, perfected by Hitler."

There were no names in the angry worded speech Truman prepared for the National Conference on Citizenship, but he asked the voters to defeat the users of "the big lie" regardless of party affiliation.

The President said that anyone who resorts to "the big lie technique" "is not a good man." And he singled out for special attention those who call Gen. George C. Marshall traitor.

He told the conference at the Hotel Statler:

"It is a big lie, for example, to say that we tolerate Communists and other disloyal persons in our government. It is a big lie to attack one of the greatest generals and patriots whom this country ever had and call him a traitor."

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican seeking reelection, has denounced Gen. Marshall and Secretary of State Acheson as "monumental liars" and has said that Marshall is "steeped in falsehood." He also has described Marshall as a "mysterious, powerful figure" who sided with Russia in historic decisions which "lost the peace for America."

Sen. William E. Jenner, Indiana Republican also up for reelection, has called Gen. Marshall a "living lie" and "front man for traitors."

GOOD TASTE TODAY

CARELESS CLOTHES

A girl writes: "My fiance is a very nice person in every respect, but he has one fault that bothers me very much. Whenever we have a date he always turns up in a sport shirt—and tieless. I don't mind this if we are merely going to a neighborhood movie or a sports event of any kind. But when we have a date to go somewhere 'special' I am often embarrassed at his appearance. I, on the other hand, am always dressed in my best clothes and, I think, look very nice. I have noticed many men lately going about without ties and to me it looks very 'sloppy.' Is this a new fad—and how can I get my fiance to wear a tie without seeming fussy or critical?"

Since you are engaged to him you certainly can be frank. You might emphasize the fact that he looks so much better in a collar and tie rather than imply that he doesn't know better than to go out in the wrong clothes.

Her Second Engagement

Dear Mrs. Post: Last year my engagement was announced in the newspapers and shortly after that it was broken, but no public announcement was made of its termination and there are many people who think I am still engaged. I am planning to announce my engagement to another man soon and would like to know if a notice of this second engagement should be sent to the newspapers, and if so, should anything be said about the broken one?

Answer: Send the announcement and do not mention the broken one.

Not His Obligation

Dear Mrs. Post: My son has been asked to be an usher at a wedding. He has been told that he is supposed to pay for the bridesmaid's flowers. Will you please tell me if this is his obligation?

Answer: I have never heard of it and I do not think it would be a good idea to start such a fashion. Correctly, the bride's family pays for all floral decorations.

What part of the wedding expenses does the groom pay? Cost Control Discussed At Accountants' Parley

One hundred and 15 members and guests attended the first fall dinner meeting of Mid-Hudson Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants, Monday night at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie.

The guest speaker was Nicholas St. Peter, assistant divisional comptroller of General Motors Corporation, speaking on How to Operate an Efficient Cost Control Program.

Using a case study from his own company, St. Peter outlined a complete program of cost control from the receipt of raw material to the final assembly of a finished part.

Citing the fact that the fair price of any manufactured article is the price which recovers all costs plus a reasonable return on investment, St. Peter pointed out the fact that only through the rigid control of costs can the price be kept low enough to meet a competitive market.

Following the talk, a discussion period was held.

The next meeting of Mid-Hudson Chapter will be held Oct. 7 at Beacon.

Total cost of the free ice cream to date—$203. Total the thief would have gotten away with if Winston hadn't nabbed him—$40.

Water Survey Has New Office Ready To Open Sept. 22nd

Ellenville, Sept. 17—Equipment and techniques employed in obtaining an inventory of surface-water supplies in the Catskill-Delaware area will be on display when open house is held Monday, Sept. 22, at the new office of the Water Resources Division, Surface Water Branch, United States Geological Survey.

Gordon R. Ayer, engineer in charge of the new office in the Balotin building, 136 Canal street, said visiting hours will be from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. and 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. Exhibits will be on display of data collected, compiled and published by the Geological Survey, and demonstrations will be given of equipment and techniques employed.

In addition to the new office, the Survey has leased basement space for equipment storage and has moved its weather station from the yard on Church street to the roof of the Canal street building. Records of temperatures and rainfall will be continued at this post for the U. S. Weather Bureau.

From 1937 to September 1, the Survey office occupied space furnished by the Board of Water Supply of the City of New York in the building it recently gave up at Church and Warren streets.

Eight persons staff the office, six hydraulic engineers and two stenographers, and it is one of four maintained in the State of New York for study of surface water supply. Two offices are also maintained in the state for studies of the quality of water.

Three engineers of the New York BWS work directly with the survey, and occupy an office adjacent to the federal quarters in the Balotin building.

It is hoped that all residents of the area will visit the new office and acquaint themselves with the work of the geological survey.

Nerves

Chiropractic is an exact science founded on the proven fact that the nervous system holds the key to all health. Chiropractic, therefore, deals entirely with the nervous system in order to correct the cause of dis-ease.

W.J.Sussin

Over the vast network of the nervous system there is a continuous flow of nerve impulses from the brain to all the glands, organs, tissue cells and back again. When a misaligned vertebra of the spine constricts nerve tracts, over which nerve impulses flow, the heart does not pump sufficient blood, glands lose their normal function and muscles cannot move normally.

These nerve impulses are the vitalizing force that drives all the intricate machinery of the human body without which we could not live. They are life as we understand it.

As Majority Voters, Women Can Clean House In Government, Oust Reds, Says Fred Stang

Speaking before an overflow audience in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel last night, Frederick H. Stang, county attorney, guest speaker of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club in a stirring address, apprised those present that the women's vote can decide the forthcoming national election. There are more women than men voters in this country, he said, "and it is up to you to voice your disapproval at the polls of the perpetuation of the Missouri gang and the vice and corruption it represents.

Continuing in this vein, he touched briefly upon the infiltration of Red elements in high places in the government. "The McCarran committee has justified everything that has been said on this score, in spite of those who tried to make the public believe otherwise," he said.

Mr. Stang did not spare his words as he spoke of the "so-called police action in Korea" which he termed a "peculiar name for a war with its mounting casualties."

Republicans United

In a more jovial vein, the speaker voiced his approval of the political developments during the past week touched off by the recent meeting of Senator Taft with General Eisenhower which has brought unity to the Republican ranks. "The Republican party is united much to the chagrin of the Democrats," he said. "They," referring to the Democrats, "had hoped we would be split in half. Contrary to their obvious desires, however, it is their own party which is split."

And, speaking on the international situation, attorney Stang had this to say. "With General Eisenhower as president, we would have a man in office who knows the international game of politics. For some years now, we have had inexperienced men who were in no degree, conversant with how to play this game. They did not and do not know how to deal with foreign representatives generally and in particular with the Stalin brand of caginess."

Wonderful Job

"General Eisenhower has demonstrated that he does know and the wonderful job he has done in Europe in getting the Europeans together, speaks for itself."

A visual demonstration on the use of the voting machine was given by Mr. Stang. He told his listeners that those who were blind or otherwise incapacitated could receive assistance at the polls.

Exercise Franchise

In closing, Mr. Stang stressed the idea that anyone who did not exercise the franchise vote this year could not consider himself a good American. "Every man and woman has to take it upon himself to vote this year or they might never again have the opportunity to exercise this freedom and right to choose the officials who run the country."

Miss Alice M. Scardefield, president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Harry Walker, program chairman, introduced the speaker. Mrs. Robert P. Baylor and Mrs. Elmer Van Tassel were hostesses.

The next meeting of the organization will take place at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Monday, Sept. 29, at 8 p. m. when Chaplain Henry Darlington, D.D., and a retired Brigadier General, will be the guest speaker.

Senator Arthur H. Wicks appeared following the meeting and mingled with those in the large audience.

Truman Says It's Not So He Allowed Reds in Offices

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—President Truman asserted today that it is "a big lie" to say he tolerates Communists in this nation's government.

And he accused those who say so of employing a tactic used by the Communists themselves, a tactic he described as "the big lie technique." That technique, Truman said, "was developed by the Communists, perfected by Hitler."

There were no names in the angry worded speech Truman prepared for the National Conference on Citizenship, but he asked the voters to defeat the users of "the big lie" regardless of party affiliation.

The President said that anyone who resorts to "the big lie technique" "is not a good man." And he singled out for special attention those who call Gen. George C. Marshall traitor.

He told the conference at the Hotel Statler:

"It is a big lie, for example, to say that we tolerate Communists and other disloyal persons in our government. It is a big lie to attack one of the greatest generals and patriots whom this country ever had and call him a traitor."

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican seeking reelection, has denounced Gen. Marshall and Secretary of State Acheson as "monumental liars" and has said that Marshall is "steeped in falsehood." He also has described Marshall as a "mysterious, powerful figure" who sided with Russia in historic decisions which "lost the peace for America."

Sen. William E. Jenner, Indiana Republican also up for reelection, has called Gen. Marshall a "living lie" and "front man for traitors."

CARELESS CLOTHES

A girl writes: "My fiance is a very nice person in every respect, but he has one fault that bothers me very much. Whenever we have a date he always turns up in a sport shirt—and tieless. I don't mind this if we are merely going to a neighborhood movie or a sports event of any kind. But when we have a date to go somewhere 'special' I am often embarrassed at his appearance. I, on the other hand, am always dressed in my best clothes and, I think, look very nice. I have noticed many men lately going about without ties and to me it looks very 'sloppy.' Is this a new fad—and how can I get my fiance to wear a tie without seeming fussy or critical?"

Since you are engaged to him you certainly can be frank. You might emphasize the fact that he looks so much better in a collar and tie rather than imply that he doesn't know better than to go out in the wrong clothes.

Traffic Club Resumes Meetings Next Week

The Mid-Hudson Traffic Club will begin its traffic club discussions Sept. 23 at 8 p. m., at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie.

The subject to be discussed at the first meeting will be the Interstate Commerce Commission's recent decision condemning the unreasonable surcharge assessment on truck shipments, resulting from the weight distance tax law effective Oct. 1, suggesting the surcharge be eliminated and an increase in rates be made to obtain the necessary revenue.

Joseph Cantwell, chairman, will preside.

Eight Are Killed In Car, Rail Crash

Austin, Tex., Sept. 17 (AP)—Eight persons—six of them from one family—were killed when a deisel-powered freight train struck an old-model auto at a railroad crossing near here last night.

All eight—a woman, five children, and two men — were passengers in the car. No one on the train was injured.

The bodies and parts of the badly-mangled 1939 automobile were strewn along the right-of-way before the train stopped about 200 yards from the crossing.

Tentative identification of the victims was made by Justice of the Peace Robin Forrester. They were:

Mrs. Ruby Inez Adams Fort, about 28, of Brady.

Brenda Joyce Fort, 9, Brady.

Shirley Gean Fort, 12, Brady.

Twin boys, Thomas Dale Fort and Bobby Gale Fort, 3, Brady.

Ben H. Smith, about 14, of Granger, Tex.

Leo Defends Harshman Choice; Says 'I Just Gambled and Lost'

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The quotes are those of Manager Leo Durocher, who yesterday astounded the experts, fans, opposition and his own players by pinning the New York Giants' pennant hopes on the left arm of a pitching neophyte who had never hurled an inning of big league ball.

The youngster is 25-year-old Jack Harsman, a former first base flop, who turned to minor league pitching last spring and was brought up to the Giants day before yesterday after a 7-7 record with Minneapolis of the American Association.

Harshman walked to the mound under his own power but collapsed quickly and the Chicago Cubs, behind Warren Hacker's three-hitter, breezed to a 9-0 victory. The defeat was a bitter one since it was followed by Brooklyn's 4-2 triumph over Pittsburgh that boosted the Dodgers' National League lead over the Giants to four games with only 10 to go for each side.

Leo, the gambler, could have pointed out, the way Hacker pitched, it didn't matter whom he sent to the mound but the gritty skipper simply said:

"I had to go with Harshman. Who else did I have? The others are all overworked."

Harshman, burdened with the high pressure of the occasion, couldn't escape an inning without being scored upon and was dericked in the third inning which ended with the Cubs enjoying a 6-0 lead.

Heartened by the Giants' loss, the Brooks stepped out in the evening and knocked off the Pirates with the help of home runs by Gil Hodges and Duke Snider. Gil Hammered his 32nd off loser Murry Dickson after Andy Pafko had doubled in the second inning to drive in his 102nd run. Snider hit his 20th of the year in the fourth.

Tribe Presses Yanks

The Yankees maintained their 2½ game margin—with 10 to go—when rookie southpaw Bill Miller twirled a three-hit, 7-0 shutout over the Detroit Tigers.

Mike Garcia kept the Indians in the running, spinning a 10-hitter for his 21st triumph against 10 defeats. The winning run was manufactured with two out in the 10th when Bobby Avila singled and scored on a double by Larry Doby.

The St. Louis Cardinals advanced to within 3½ games of the second place Giants, sweeping a twi-night twin-bill from Boston's Braves, 8-6 and 5-1.

Robin Roberts became the first National League pitcher since 1939 to reach 25 victories when he pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-2 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds.

Chicago's White Sox protected their third place position in the American League, dividing a doubleheader with the Philadelphia A's. The A's won the opener, 2-1, but Chicago captured the nightcap, 7-1.

Rookie Jim Dyck blasted a pair of homers for the St. Louis Browns but it wasn't enough and the Boston Red Sox won, 11-7.

City Playoff Slated Sunday

Yesterday's scheduled City League second half playoff between Jones Dairy and Wiltwyck Motors was not played because of the unavailability of several players on both teams. The new playoff date has been set for Sunday, Sept. 20, at 2:05 p .m.

Pitching plans remain the same with Tommy Fisher scheduled to go for Jones Dairy and Bud Finn or Ernie McCormick working for the Highland crew.

Graziano Stays 9-5 Over Davey

Chicago, Sept. 17 (AP)—With a welterweight title shot already promised, scholarly Chuck Davey will only risk getting his feelings hurt and his undefeated ring record shattered tonight against rough-and-ready Rocky Graziano, ex-middleweight champion.

Eager to prove he is not over the hill, the 30-year-old Graziano glows confidently that he will win the scheduled 10 rounder in Chicago Stadium with a knockout. Sharpies will lay 9 to 5 odds that he's right.

Davey, whose Michigan State masters degree in education qualifies him for a school principal's job—which he has considered on occasion—thinks his speed and unorthodox, southpaw style will keep Graziano combing nothing but air.

A ringside crowd of about 12,000, contributing to an estimated gate of $65,000 to $75,000 is expected.

Contract Squabble Arises as Walcott And Marciano Look Ahead to Return Go

Grossinger, Sept. 17 (AP)—Heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott doesn't put his title on the line against Rocky Marciano until next Tuesday night in Philadelphia, but a squabble already has developed over plans for a return bout.

It started yesterday afternoon when the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission flew here from Walcott's camp in Atlantic City, N. J., and demanded that Marciano's manager sign for a return bout on a Pennsylvania contract.

Al Weill, Marciano's manager, flatly refused, with much indignation, saying this would commit him to another bout in Philadelphia. He prefers New York.

"I have signed a return-bout contract with Promoter Jim Norris," he said, "giving Walcott a return within ninety days at 30 per cent each, if we win the title.

"Felix Bocchicchio, Walcott's manager, has this contract with my signature on it. Under this contract the promoter has the privilege of deciding where the return bout shall be."

Weill said he permitted the fight next week to be put on in Philadelphia at a top ringside price of $40, and added a return could bring $50 tops for ringside in New York.

"If there's a return bout, I'd certainly insist that New York gets it."

The Pennsylvania contract was presented by George Jones and Ox Da Grosa of that state's athletic commission.

They came here with a plane load of newsmen, and Dr. Joseph Bartone, Pennsylvania physician who examined Marciano and reported the Brockton, Mass., puncher "in very good condition."

Earlier in the day in Atlantic City, Bartone examined Walcott and said he was in perfect shape.

Pheasant Season Opening Set Oct. 20; State Lists Dates for Other Small Game

Albany, Sept. 17 (AP)—With small game abundant, New York State will permit more days of hunting this fall than it has in many years.

About one million hunters are expected to take advantage of the extended season, the State Conservation Department said yesterday.

Upland hunting will get underway first in the Adirondack zone, where the season opens Oct. 10 on cottontail rabbits, pheasants, woodcock and ruffed grouse. In most counties, opening day will be Oct. 20.

Approximately one million charts listing the game season on a county-by-county basis will be supplied to sportsmen this year for the first time. They are available at all license-issuing offices.

Cottontail rabbits continue in good supply. The Department has retained last year's extended season generally and raised the daily bag limit from four to six in most counties.

Cottontails will be fair game in the northern zone from Oct. 10 through Feb. 28. In the rest of the state, with a few exceptions, the season will run from Oct. 20 through Feb. 15.

The squirrel season in all mainland counties opens Oct. 17 and continues through Nov. 29. The daily bag limit is five.

Pheasants October 20

In most counties, pheasants may be hunted six days, Oct. 20-25. The limit is two cocks daily and six for the season. The Adirondack season is Oct. 10-15, except Sunday, with the same bag limit.

As an experiment, the season for ruffed grouse has been split for all counties except those in the northern zone, so that grouse hunters will not be in the woods during the deer season.

The first half of the ruffed grouse season will be Oct. 20-Nov. 14 and the second Dec. 1-19 or Dec. 1-10, depending on the region. The Adirondacks will have a continuous season, Oct. 10-Nov. 23. The bag limit is three daily, 15 for the season.

Dates for woodcock, previously announced by the federal government correspond to those for ruffed grouse. The state-wide opening on waterfowl is Oct. 25, with Dec. 18 the final day.

In the northern area, the hunting and trapping season on raccoons opens Oct. 25. The date is Oct. 29 in most other counties. The season will end either Jan 31 or Feb. 15, depending on the county.

Varying hares (snowshoe rabbits) may be hunted in the northern zone from Nov. 26 through Feb. 28. In other counties where snowshoes are legal game, they may be hunted from Dec. 1 to Feb. 15.

A special open season on Hungarian partridge will be held for the first time since the species was introduced into the state more than 20 years ago. The season will be Oct. 10-15. The only counties affected are Franklin, Jefferson and St. Lawrence.

Loss of Ronald Thomas Blow to KHS Harriers

Season Opens Sept. 26 With Monticello High

Loss of Ronald Thomas, No. 1 runner on the holdover squad, has dealt a crippling blow to Kingston High school's fall cross country prospects, Coach G. Warren Kias said today.

Thomas, who ran second to Bob Baumer in all the Maroon meets in the spring season, left school after 10 days this term because of illness in his family.

The departure of Thomas leaves Coach Kias with a fair nucleus in harriers like Bucky Miller, Joe Markle, Webster Henderson, Frank Tiano, John Brown and Bob McGreevey.

"The prospects are fair" Kias went on, "but with Thomas running No. 1 for us we might have had a chance for an all-winning season."

Kias said there was no indication that Thomas might return to Kingston High at a later date.

Point For State

An intensive schedule that lists a Friday, Sept. 26, opener against Monticello High at the municipal stadium will be climaxed on Nov. 16 with the state meet at Schenectady," if we qualify anybody in the intersectional," Kias continued.

While the varsity stages its dual meets on Fridays, the Jayvee harriers have four Wednesday dates, opening at Marlborough October 1. Wallkill High and Marlborough (return) are scheduled to visit municipal stadium, while the second road meet will be at Montgomery High on Oct. 15.

The cross country schedules:

Varsity

Sept. 26—Monticello High, here.
October 3—Arlington High.
October 10—Middletown.
October 24—Newburgh Academy, away.
October 31 — DUSO League meet (tentatively scheduled for Kingston).
November 8—Sectionals at Bear Mountain.
November 16 — State meet (Schenectady).

Jayvee Schedule

October 1—Marlborough, away.
October 8—Wallkill High.
October 15—Montgomery, away.
October 22—Marlborough, here.

Leo Defends Harshman Choice; Says 'I Just Gambled and Lost'

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

"I just gambled and lost, that's all."

The quotes are those of Manager Leo Durocher, who yesterday astounded the experts, fans, opposition and his own players by pinning the New York Giants' pennant hopes on the left arm of a pitching neophyte who had never hurled an inning of big league ball.

The youngster is 25-year-old Jack Harsman, a former first base flop, who turned to minor league pitching last spring and was brought up to the Giants day before yesterday after a 7-7 record with Minneapolis of the American Association.

Harshman walked to the mound under his own power but collapsed quickly and the Chicago Cubs, behind Warren Hacker's three-hitter, breezed to a 9-0 victory. The defeat was a bitter one since it was followed by Brooklyn's 4-2 triumph over Pittsburgh that boosted the Dodgers' National League lead over the Giants to four games with only 10 to go for each side.

Leo, the gambler, could have pointed out, the way Hacker pitched, it didn't matter whom he sent to the mound but the gritty skipper simply said:

"I had to go with Harshman. Who else did I have? The others are all overworked."

Harshman, burdened with the high pressure of the occasion, couldn't escape an inning without being scored upon and was dericked in the third inning which ended with the Cubs enjoying a 6-0 lead.

Heartened by the Giants' loss, the Brooks stepped out in the evening and knocked off the Pirates with the help of home runs by Gil Hodges and Duke Snider. Gil Hammered his 32nd off loser Murry Dickson after Andy Pafko had doubled in the second inning to drive in his 102nd run. Snider hit his 20th of the year in the fourth.

Tribe Presses Yanks

Cleveland remained stationary in its pursuit of the American League leading New York Yankees despite its 10-inning, 4-3 triumph over the Washington Senators.

The Yankees maintained their 2½ game margin—with 10 to go—when rookie southpaw Bill Miller twirled a three-hit, 7-0 shutout over the Detroit Tigers.

Mike Garcia kept the Indians in the running, spinning a 10-hitter for his 21st triumph against 10 defeats. The winning run was manufactured with two out in the 10th when Bobby Avila singled and scored on a double by Larry Doby.

The St. Louis Cardinals advanced to within 3½ games of the second place Giants, sweeping a twi-night twin-bill from Boston's Braves, 8-6 and 5-1.

Robin Roberts became the first National League pitcher since 1939 to reach 25 victories when he pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-2 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds.

Chicago's White Sox protected their third place position in the American League, dividing a doubleheader with the Philadelphia A's. The A's won the opener, 2-1, but Chicago captured the nightcap, 7-1.

Rookie Jim Dyck blasted a pair of homers for the St. Louis Browns but it wasn't enough and the Boston Red Sox won, 11-7.

City Playoff Slated Sunday

Yesterday's scheduled City League second half playoff between Jones Dairy and Wiltwyck Motors was not played because of the unavailability of several players on both teams. The new playoff date has been set for Sunday, Sept. 20, at 2:05 p .m.

Pitching plans remain the same with Tommy Fisher scheduled to go for Jones Dairy and Bud Finn or Ernie McCormick working for the Highland crew.

Graziano Stays 9-5 Over Davey

Chicago, Sept. 17 (AP)—With a welterweight title shot already promised, scholarly Chuck Davey will only risk getting his feelings hurt and his undefeated ring record shattered tonight against rough-and-ready Rocky Graziano, ex-middleweight champion.

Eager to prove he is not over the hill, the 30-year-old Graziano glows confidently that he will win the scheduled 10 rounder in Chicago Stadium with a knockout. Sharpies will lay 9 to 5 odds that he's right.

Davey, whose Michigan State masters degree in education qualifies him for a school principal's job—which he has considered on occasion—thinks his speed and unorthodox, southpaw style will keep Graziano combing nothing but air.

A ringside crowd of about 12,000, contributing to an estimated gate of $65,000 to $75,000 is expected.

Loss of Ronald Thomas Blow to KHS Harriers

Season Opens Sept. 26 With Monticello High

Loss of Ronald Thomas, No. 1 runner on the holdover squad, has dealt a crippling blow to Kingston High school's fall cross country prospects, Coach G. Warren Kias said today.

Thomas, who ran second to Bob Baumer in all the Maroon meets in the spring season, left school after 10 days this term because of illness in his family.

The departure of Thomas leaves Coach Kias with a fair nucleus in harriers like Bucky Miller, Joe Markle, Webster Henderson, Frank Tiano, John Brown and Bob McGreevey.

"The prospects are fair" Kias went on, "but with Thomas running No. 1 for us we might have had a chance for an all-winning season."

Kias said there was no indication that Thomas might return to Kingston High at a later date.

Point For State

An intensive schedule that lists a Friday, Sept. 26, opener against Monticello High at the municipal stadium will be climaxed on Nov. 16 with the state meet at Schenectady," if we qualify anybody in the intersectional," Kias continued.

While the varsity stages its dual meets on Fridays, the Jayvee harriers have four Wednesday dates, opening at Marlborough October 1. Wallkill High and Marlborough (return) are scheduled to visit municipal stadium, while the second road meet will be at Montgomery High on Oct. 15.

The cross country schedules:

October 3—Arlington High.
October 10—Middletown.
October 24—Newburgh Academy, away.
October 31 — DUSO League meet (tentatively scheduled for Kingston).

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

The new bowling season is under way and Mr. Average Bowler's individual rating becomes a matter of paramount importance to him. Just like the golfer strives to lower his handicap, so the bowler struggles to raise his average.

Although bowling and golf ratings travel in opposite directions—by the very nature of the scoring systems used—there is much in common between the harassed golfer and the struggling kegler.

The sports are identical from a teaching standpoint since all the good work (or bad) is done before the competitor "strikes" the ball. In bowling, all the bad habits are formed "behind the foul line." Once the ball is released, the ultimate results 60 feet away at the headpin are in the laps of the gods.

A golf pro like Alex Gerlak or Tom Danaher would never dream of handing the novice a set of clubs and sending him forth to butcher the fairways after one lesson. Neither does the good bowling teacher.

Since the fundamental principles of rythm, follow-through, grip, footwork, aply to both sports, the teaching theories are almost identical. If the fundamentals are conquered in bowling and golf, the results are generally satisfying and commensurate with the native skill of the performer. Not everybody can be a bowling "sharper" or golf wizard but a common sense approach to the fundamentals can make each sport enjoyable and productive for the performer.

Remember that when you practice tenpins (if you're lucky enough to find an open alley these days.) Footwork is the most important element in the whole bowling swing; like a faulty grip causes wholesale grief among duffers. Concentrate on your footwork and follow through and disregard the scores for a while. Once you have established a good, sound delivery, with a comfortable, balanced approach to the foul line, bowling will become a pleasure.

It is well to remember that all the mistakes you make on the runway up to the foul line will show up 60 feet away at the headpin. The temptation to get out on the runways and start murdering the pot-bellied maples is irresistible, we know. But it seems foolish and expensive to spend a lot of good money batting your brains out on the royal road to nowhere.

• Splits and Misses:

Memo to league secretaries: Get your ABC sanction applications in early and protect the members of your league for high scores. If your league doesn't have the automatic bonding furnished by the ABC, you're making a big mistake. Don't say "it can't happen to our league." The Kingston Bowling Association files will prove you wrong on several counts. Irwin J. Thomas, the KBA secretary, is swamped by voluminous material from ABC headquarters these days. When the ABC launched its "expanded program service," they were not kidding. George C. Obenauer, of Buffalo, the New York State Bowling Association secretary, was installed as 39th president of the American Bowling Congress on Sept. 6 in his home town of Buffalo. More than 600 persons, including 22 ABC officials and 54 out-of-town guests, saw Frank Baker, ABC secretary, install Obenauer as president. As president of the ABC, Obenauer will be head of its membership of more than 1,600,000 bowlers. George's extensive background in bowling's official family makes him a logical choice for the high office.

• That New Tie Rule:

After experimenting with several methods of rolling off tie games, the ABC, at its last convention, decided to abolish rolloffs and award each team a half game. It seems like a sensible solution to a problem that has plagued bowling for years and became aggravated as bowling pressure mounted and alleys were forced to run as much as three shifts a night. Time outs for rolloffs were costly and put a burden on later shifts. The rule, specifically, goes something like this: .....

"When a tie game occurs, each of the two teams involved in the tie shall be credited in the standings with having won one-half game, and with the loss of one-half game. No roll-off of the tie shall be necessary. In leagues using the point system, each team receives a half point."

LL Champions Feted by Coach

Members of the Little League Dodgers, champions of the 1952 KAA Little League, were guests of Coach Bernard A. "Bud" Culloton at a luncheon at the Hotel Stuyvesant yesterday.

Besides the players, Coach Thomas M. Davitt and Robert Umpleby, Little League commissioner, were present.

The Dodgers captured the first half of the Little League race, finished second in the second round and then toppled the Red Sox in two straight games to win the league championship.

While outstanding stars like Glenn Newell, Hobart Armstrong and others came in for special praise, Culloton, in a brief speech, paid tribute to his players and said it was a team achievement all the way.

The former major league and Colonial pitching immortal stressed the importance of sportsmanship and told the small fry, "You can't win them all and you won't lose them all, but you play hard and fair to win them all, if you can."

Affiliated with the Little League since its organization in 1951, Culloton said his association with the small fry was the greatest thrill in a long baseball career that has seen many great moments for him.

Coach Davitt and Commissioner Umpleby also had warm praise for the players and urged the graduates to try out for the Fraternal Youth League next season and to maintain their interest in baseball.

KAA Meeting

Gamecocks Get Jump on Army

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 17—The University of South Carolina Gamecocks, who meet Army at West Point on September 27, will get the jump on the Cadets in official action by playing Wofford here Saturday night.

The Gamecocks will be favored to win by several touchdowns, but Wofford annually produces one of the top small college teams in the nation.

Coach Rex Enright has settled on a starting backfield of quarterback Dick Balka, halfbacks Gene Wilson and Bobby Drawdy and fullback Bill Wohrman.

Balka passed for 401 yards last season, Drawdy ran for 418 and a 6.5 average, and Wilson, a reserve behind the great Steve Wadiak, picked up 240 yards rushing.

The starting Gamecock offensive line will average 203 pounds from end to end, while the defensive forward wall averages 204 pounds. Biggest man in the line is defensive guard Frank Mincevich, a 245-pounder, from Hackettstown, N. J.

One New Yorker, end Walt Shea, a co-captain from Brooklyn, is a starter. Shea caught seven passes for 164 yards last season.

Pittsburgh—Lee Sala, 164, Donora, Pa., outpointed Otis Graham, 163, Philadelphia (10).

Wiltwyck Club Captures Triangular Tournament From Hudson and Catskill

Wiltwyck Golf Club swingers swept two divisions and won five of seven prizes in the third in the weekend triangular golf tournament at Wiltwyck against Catskill and Hudson.

Former club champion, Leon Randall, posted low medal score of 71 and Bill Van Aken had a 72 as Dr. Fred Holcomb's linksmen grabbed everything in Class A and C and won five prizes in Class B.

Fifty eight players in spite of the misty, rainy weather in the final leg of the three-match series. Earlier in the season the clubs met on the Hudson and Catskill courses.

Wiltwyck held a 20-stroke lead going into Sunday's finale and quickly asserted its superiority. The visiting players found the combination of weather and the tough Wiltwyck course too much for them and only two were able to make the prize list.

Dr. George Rifenbary led the Class B group with a gross of 80. A 14-handicap gave him a net of 66, lowest of the day. Bill Polk's 91 topped the Class C contingent. His 23-handicap netted a 68.

New Gas Water Heater Ideal for Local Use!

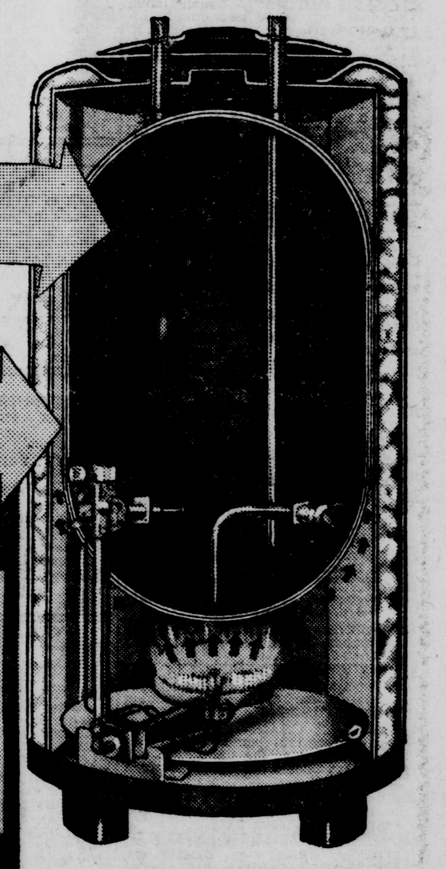
RHEEM "COPPERMATIC" DEFIES CORROSION, COSTLY BREAKDOWNS!

The first sure answer to early rust and corrosion of storage-type water heaters by local water is promised in the new Rheem "Coppermatic" automatic gas water heater, now on display at local dealers.

A TANK OF PURE COPPER complete, rustproof inner tank

The inner copper tank of this new heater cannot rust and it withstands corrosion many times longer than ordinary tanks.

IN A TANK OF SOLID STEEL both tanks "Pressure-Proved"



Together, the outer steel tank and inner copper tank are "pressure-proved" before delivery—by tests at more than double the normal pressure!

Copper "Ageless"
The endurance of copper is indicated by the thin sheets coating the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor — still in perfect condition after 67 years! Copper pipes thousands of years old are still usable. The "Coppermatic's" inner tank is pure copper.

Compact Size Fits Low-Ceiling Space
Easy adaptation to any basement space is made possible by the compactness of the new heater. Its exclusive built-in draft diverter makes the complete installation many inches lower.

Outer Jacket of Enameled Steel
The smart appearance of the new Rheem "Coppermatic" heater will brighten any basement or kitchen. Its outer steel jacket is finished in two-toned enamel. Between the inner steel flue casing and the outer jacket is heavy Fiberglas insulation.

New Design Speeds Hot Water
Both the copper tank and steel tank of the new heater fit tightly together. Because their bottoms are capsule-shaped, without central flues, the wide circular gas burner directly heats a much larger area than on heaters of usual design. The heat is then drawn up by a new exclusive multiple-flue system, to provide added heat transfer at extremely low cost.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

The new bowling season is under way and Mr. Average Bowler's individual rating becomes a matter of paramount importance to him. Just like the golfer strives to lower his handicap, so the bowler struggles to raise his average.

Although bowling and golf ratings travel in opposite directions—by the very nature of the scoring systems used—there is much in common between the harassed golfer and the struggling kegler.

The sports are identical from a teaching standpoint since all the good work (or bad) is done before the competitor "strikes" the ball. In bowling, all the bad habits are formed "behind the foul line." Once the ball is released, the ultimate results 60 feet away at the headpin are in the laps of the gods.

A golf pro like Alex Gerlak or Tom Danaher would never dream of handing the novice a set of clubs and sending him forth to butcher the fairways after one lesson. Neither does the good bowling teacher.

Since the fundamental principles of rythm, follow-through, grip, footwork, aply to both sports, the teaching theories are almost identical. If the fundamentals are conquered in bowling and golf, the results are generally satisfying and commensurate with the native skill of the performer. Not everybody can be a bowling "sharper" or golf wizard but a common sense approach to the fundamentals can make each sport enjoyable and productive for the performer.

Remember that when you practice tenpins (if you're lucky enough to find an open alley these days.) Footwork is the most important element in the whole bowling swing; like a faulty grip causes wholesale grief among duffers. Concentrate on your footwork and follow through and disregard the scores for a while. Once you have established a good, sound delivery, with a comfortable, balanced approach to the foul line, bowling will become a pleasure.

It is well to remember that all the mistakes you make on the runway up to the foul line will show up 60 feet away at the headpin. The temptation to get out on the runways and start murdering the pot-bellied maples is irresistible, we know. But it seems foolish and expensive to spend a lot of good money batting your brains out on the royal road to nowhere.

• Splits and Misses:

Memo to league secretaries: Get your ABC sanction applications in early and protect the members of your league for high scores. If your league doesn't have the automatic bonding furnished by the ABC, you're making a big mistake. Don't say "it can't happen to our league." The Kingston Bowling Association files will prove you wrong on several counts. Irwin J. Thomas, the KBA secretary, is swamped by voluminous material from ABC headquarters these days. When the ABC launched its "expanded program service," they were not kidding. George C. Obenauer, of Buffalo, the New York State Bowling Association secretary, was installed as 39th president of the American Bowling Congress on Sept. 6 in his home town of Buffalo. More than 600 persons, including 22 ABC officials and 54 out-of-town guests, saw Frank Baker, ABC secretary, install Obenauer as president. As president of the ABC, Obenauer will be head of its membership of more than 1,600,000 bowlers. George's extensive background in bowling's official family makes him a logical choice for the high office.

• That New Tie Rule:

After experimenting with several methods of rolling off tie games, the ABC, at its last convention, decided to abolish rolloffs and award each team a half game. It seems like a sensible solution to a problem that has plagued bowling for years and became aggravated as bowling pressure mounted and alleys were forced to run as much as three shifts a night. Time outs for rolloffs were costly and put a burden on later shifts. The rule, specifically, goes something like this: .....

"When a tie game occurs, each of the two teams involved in the tie shall be credited in the standings with having won one-half game, and with the loss of one-half game. No roll-off of the tie shall be necessary. In leagues using the point system, each team receives a half point."

The fathers of the players also were among the 45 persons who attended. The dinner, served by Joe Kelly and his culinary staff, honored the FYL tossers for a successful first season, including standout performances in the playoffs. LL Champions Feted by Coach

Members of the Little League Dodgers, champions of the 1952 KAA Little League, were guests of Coach Bernard A. "Bud" Culloton at a luncheon at the Hotel Stuyvesant yesterday.

Besides the players, Coach Thomas M. Davitt and Robert Umpleby, Little League commissioner, were present.

The Dodgers captured the first half of the Little League race, finished second in the second round and then toppled the Red Sox in two straight games to win the league championship.

While outstanding stars like Glenn Newell, Hobart Armstrong and others came in for special praise, Culloton, in a brief speech, paid tribute to his players and said it was a team achievement all the way.

The former major league and Colonial pitching immortal stressed the importance of sportsmanship and told the small fry, "You can't win them all and you won't lose them all, but you play hard and fair to win them all, if you can."

Affiliated with the Little League since its organization in 1951, Culloton said his association with the small fry was the greatest thrill in a long baseball career that has seen many great moments for him.

Coach Davitt and Commissioner Umpleby also had warm praise for the players and urged the graduates to try out for the Fraternal Youth League next season and to maintain their interest in baseball.

KAA Meeting

The first fall meeting of the Kingston Athletic Association is scheduled at 8 o'clock tonight at the Hotel Stuyvesant. A membership report will be given and nominations of officers for 1952-53 calendar year will be held.

Gamecocks Get Jump on Army

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 17—The University of South Carolina Gamecocks, who meet Army at West Point on September 27, will get the jump on the Cadets in official action by playing Wofford here Saturday night.

The Gamecocks will be favored to win by several touchdowns, but Wofford annually produces one of the top small college teams in the nation.

Coach Rex Enright has settled on a starting backfield of quarterback Dick Balka, halfbacks Gene Wilson and Bobby Drawdy and fullback Bill Wohrman.

Balka passed for 401 yards last season, Drawdy ran for 418 and a 6.5 average, and Wilson, a reserve behind the great Steve Wadiak, picked up 240 yards rushing.

The starting Gamecock offensive line will average 203 pounds from end to end, while the defensive forward wall averages 204 pounds. Biggest man in the line is defensive guard Frank Mincevich, a 245-pounder, from Hackettstown, N. J.

One New Yorker, end Walt Shea, a co-captain from Brooklyn, is a starter. Shea caught seven passes for 164 yards last season.

Pittsburgh—Lee Sala, 164, Donora, Pa., outpointed Otis Graham, 163, Philadelphia (10).

Wiltwyck Club Captures Triangular Tournament From Hudson and Catskill

Wiltwyck Golf Club swingers swept two divisions and won five of seven prizes in the third in the weekend triangular golf tournament at Wiltwyck against Catskill and Hudson.

Former club champion, Leon Randall, posted low medal score of 71 and Bill Van Aken had a 72 as Dr. Fred Holcomb's linksmen grabbed everything in Class A and C and won five prizes in Class B.

Fifty eight players in spite of the misty, rainy weather in the final leg of the three-match series. Earlier in the season the clubs met on the Hudson and Catskill courses.

Wiltwyck held a 20-stroke lead going into Sunday's finale and quickly asserted its superiority. The visiting players found the combination of weather and the tough Wiltwyck course too much for them and only two were able to make the prize list.

Dr. Mahlon Atkinson the prominent surgeon golfer of Catskill, was the only visiting player to break "80" on the Wiltwyck layout. Besides Van Aken and Randall, three other locals were in the "70" bracket, Gerry Wells with 76; Brian Smith 77 and Bob Daley 78.

Dr. George Rifenbary led the Class B group with a gross of 80. A 14-handicap gave him a net of 66, lowest of the day. Bill Polk's 91 topped the Class C contingent. His 23-handicap netted a 68.

New Gas Water Heater Ideal for Local Use!

RHEEM "COPPERMATIC" DEFIES CORROSION, COSTLY BREAKDOWNS!

The first sure answer to early rust and corrosion of storage-type water heaters by local water is promised in the new Rheem "Coppermatic" automatic gas water heater, now on display at local dealers.

A TANK OF PURE COPPER complete, rustproof inner tank

The inner copper tank of this new heater cannot rust and it withstands corrosion many times longer than ordinary tanks.

IN A TANK OF SOLID STEEL both tanks "Pressure-Proved"

Together, the outer steel tank and inner copper tank are "pressure-proved" before delivery—by tests at more than double the normal pressure!

Copper "Ageless"

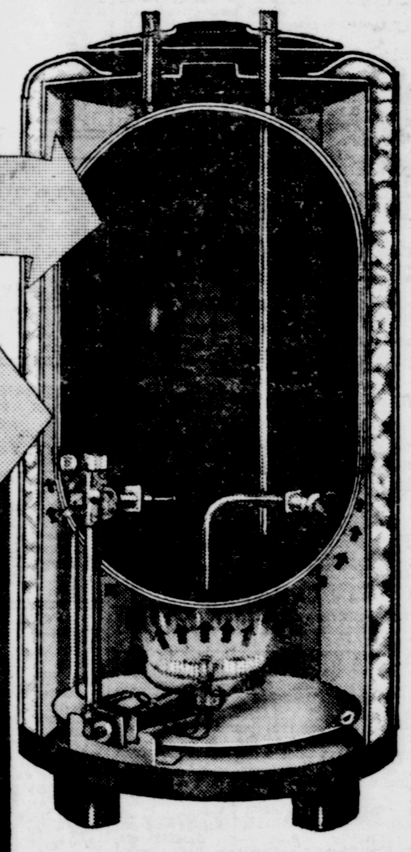
Compact Size Fits Low-Ceiling Space

Easy adaptation to any basement space is made possible by the compactness of the new heater. Its exclusive built-in draft diverter makes the complete installation many inches lower.

Outer Jacket of Enameled Steel

The smart appearance of the new Rheem "Coppermatic" heater will brighten any basement or kitchen. Its outer steel jacket is finished in two-toned enamel. Between the inner steel flue casing and the outer jacket is heavy Fiberglas insulation.



New Design Speeds Hot Water

Both the copper tank and steel tank of the new heater fit tightly together. Because their bottoms are capsule-shaped, without central flues, the wide circular gas burner directly heats a much larger area than on heaters of usual design. The heat is then drawn up by a new exclusive multiple-flue system, to provide added heat transfer at extremely low cost.

Rebels Seek Way To Put General's Name on Ballot

Austin, Tex., Sept. 17 (AP)—Rebellious Texas Democrats had a state-wide organization to back GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower today but no way to put his name on the ballot under a Democratic label.

Judge Jack Roberts in Austin's 126th District Court yesterday prohibited the use of the Democratic label or any variation of it for Eisenhower on the state's general election ballot, Nov. 4.

Roberts' decision came just a few hours after a group of Democrats, meeting in Austin, set up a state organization and planned a "grass roots" campaign for a Republican victory in Texas.

Claud Gilmer, former speaker of the Texas House of Representatives and a Rock Springs attorney, was named to lead the movement under the name of "Texas Democrats for Eisenhower."

Temporary Injunction

The prohibition to use the Democratic label for the Republican nominee came in a temporary injunction forbidding Secretary of State Jack Ross of Texas to certify Eisenhower's name as the presidential candidate for the recently organized "Texas Democratic Party."

The party was organized in an effort to give Texas Democrats who oppose Democratic nominee Adlai Stevenson a chance to vote for the Republican nominee in some kind of Democratic column.

The State Democratic Convention at Amarillo, Tex., Sept. 9, certified Stevenson as its nominee, but urged all Democrats to work and vote for Eisenhower.

A day later, the "Texas Democratic Party" was organized in Dallas and the Republican nominee certified as its candidate.

Corell Resigns Local YMCA Post; To Be Secretary

Clarence W. Corell, who has served the local YMCA as boys' and youth secretary since June, 1946, has accepted the post as general secretary of the YMCA at Bellefonte, Pa., it was announced this morning.

Corell disclosed his offer at last night's board of directors meeting and his resignation from his local post was accepted with regret. He is expected to assume his new duties within 30 days.

A former boys' secretary at Nashua, N. H., Corell also has served the Troy and New York associations.

During his association with the local YMCA, Corell has been a popular director of the Youth Center where he conducted the regular Saturday night social parties and square dances. From this group, he developed the MJM Friday night parties.

Mrs. Corell also has been a familiar figure with the local group. She has served as corresponding secretary of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y.

During the directors' meeting under the leadership of President C. A. Baltz, reports were given from all departments showing an active summer season in camp and in the boys' department. A total of 224 boys and girls were taught to swim during the summer between the course at Day Camp and the courses at the Y pool.

The bowling committee reported an excellent start of all leagues this week on the resurfaced alleys. There are still two openings for church teams Wednesday night and opportunities are open for league bowling Saturdays.

New membership rates were decided for the 1952-53 season which include a rebate for some of the payments when paid in full.

An executive committee meeting will be called to consider some improvements in the physical department, equipment, and business men's locker room and ways and means of accomplishing it.

Wake, at its highest point, is only 15 feet above sea level.

Tribute Is Asked

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—Gov. Dewey urges New Yorkers to join in paying tribute to the memory of Carl Schurz, a German-American who served as U. S. minister to Spain and secretary of the interior. Today is the 100th anniversary of Schurz' arrival in New York city. The governor observed in a statement yesterday that Schurz became a "prominent, unusually useful" American citizen and "joined the front ranks in the struggle for liberty."

Man, Woman Are Held As Infants Disappear

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—Police held a 62-year-old man and his common law wife, 32, today in an investigation into the disappearance of two infant girls born to the woman. Detectives said the man abandoned one child and the woman said she smothered the other.

The man is George Frech, of Brooklyn, a window cleaner who has been charged with the abandonment in 1948 of his four-day-old daughter, born at Metropolitan Hospital.

The woman, Alice Farley Frech, was booked as a material witness pending further investigation.

Police said that after long questioning the woman admitted smothering the second infant July 19 in her home and placing it in a cedar chest. They quoted her as saying she kept the body in the chest for almost a month, then put the body in a paper bag and dropped it in an ashcan. The baby was born last April 30 at Bellevue Hospital.

The investigation began Sunday night after an anonymous telephone call from "an interested party."

Detectives said they learned that the first child was abandoned by Frech in St. Nicholas Church at Passaic, N. J., and is now in a welfare agency.

Puttering Course Offered

Richmond, Va., Sept. 17 (AP)—Richmond Professional Institute is offering a course this year in "puttering." A part of RIP's adult education program, it's intended to teach men and women how to putter around the house to better effect. Among other things, the course includes basic fundamentals of electricity, plumbing, woodworking, use of tools, minor home repairs—and how to stay within the family budget.

Nehru Slams Reds

New Delhi, India, Sept. 17 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru shouted to heckling Communists today: "There's no room in India for you." Nehru was confronted at Ujjain by 3,000 Communist demonstrators who carried Red placards and shouted slogans. Nehru told the Reds: "If the Communists believe they can achieve their ends by staging demonstrations the peace, I should like to tell them they must go to the native place of communism with their Red flags and placards. I am not going to bow to them."

Rebels Seek Way To Put General's Name on Ballot

Austin, Tex., Sept. 17 (AP)—Rebellious Texas Democrats had a state-wide organization to back GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower today but no way to put his name on the ballot under a Democratic label.

Judge Jack Roberts in Austin's 126th District Court yesterday prohibited the use of the Democratic label or any variation of it for Eisenhower on the state's general election ballot, Nov. 4.

Roberts' decision came just a few hours after a group of Democrats, meeting in Austin, set up a state organization and planned a "grass roots" campaign for a Republican victory in Texas.

Claud Gilmer, former speaker of the Texas House of Representatives and a Rock Springs attorney, was named to lead the movement under the name of "Texas Democrats for Eisenhower."

Temporary Injunction

The prohibition to use the Democratic label for the Republican nominee came in a temporary injunction forbidding Secretary of State Jack Ross of Texas to certify Eisenhower's name as the presidential candidate for the recently organized "Texas Democratic Party."

The party was organized in an effort to give Texas Democrats who oppose Democratic nominee Adlai Stevenson a chance to vote for the Republican nominee in some kind of Democratic column.

The State Democratic Convention at Amarillo, Tex., Sept. 9, certified Stevenson as its nominee, but urged all Democrats to work and vote for Eisenhower.

A day later, the "Texas Democratic Party" was organized in Dallas and the Republican nominee certified as its candidate.

Corell Resigns Local YMCA Post; To Be Secretary

Clarence W. Corell, who has served the local YMCA as boys' and youth secretary since June, 1946, has accepted the post as general secretary of the YMCA at Bellefonte, Pa., it was announced this morning.

Corell disclosed his offer at last night's board of directors meeting and his resignation from his local post was accepted with regret. He is expected to assume his new duties within 30 days.

A former boys' secretary at Nashua, N. H., Corell also has served the Troy and New York associations.

During his association with the local YMCA, Corell has been a popular director of the Youth Center where he conducted the regular Saturday night social parties and square dances. From this group, he developed the MJM Friday night parties.

Mrs. Corell also has been a familiar figure with the local group. She has served as corresponding secretary of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y.

During the directors' meeting under the leadership of President C. A. Baltz, reports were given from all departments showing an active summer season in camp and in the boys' department. A total of 224 boys and girls were taught to swim during the summer between the course at Day Camp and the courses at the Y pool.

The bowling committee reported an excellent start of all leagues this week on the resurfaced alleys. There are still two openings for church teams Wednesday night and opportunities are open for league bowling Saturdays.

New membership rates were decided for the 1952-53 season which include a rebate for some of the payments when paid in full.

An executive committee meeting will be called to consider some improvements in the physical department, equipment, and business men's locker room and ways and means of accomplishing it.

Wake, at its highest point, is only 15 feet above sea level.

Tribute Is Asked

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—Gov. Dewey urges New Yorkers to join in paying tribute to the memory of Carl Schurz, a German-American who served as U. S. minister to Spain and secretary of the interior. Today is the 100th anniversary of Schurz' arrival in New York city. The governor observed in a statement yesterday that Schurz became a "prominent, unusually useful" American citizen and "joined the front ranks in the struggle for liberty."

Man, Woman Are Held As Infants Disappear

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—Police held a 62-year-old man and his common law wife, 32, today in an investigation into the disappearance of two infant girls born to the woman. Detectives said the man abandoned one child and the woman said she smothered the other.

The man is George Frech, of Brooklyn, a window cleaner who has been charged with the abandonment in 1948 of his four-day-old daughter, born at Metropolitan Hospital.

The woman, Alice Farley Frech, was booked as a material witness pending further investigation.

Police said that after long questioning the woman admitted smothering the second infant July 19 in her home and placing it in a cedar chest. They quoted her as saying she kept the body in the chest for almost a month, then put the body in a paper bag and dropped it in an ashcan. The baby was born last April 30 at Bellevue Hospital.

The investigation began Sunday night after an anonymous telephone call from "an interested party."

Detectives said they learned that the first child was abandoned by Frech in St. Nicholas Church at Passaic, N. J., and is now in a welfare agency.

Puttering Course Offered

Richmond, Va., Sept. 17 (AP)—Richmond Professional Institute is offering a course this year in "puttering." A part of RIP's adult education program, it's intended to teach men and women how to putter around the house to better effect. Among other things, the course includes basic fundamentals of electricity, plumbing, woodworking, use of tools, minor home repairs—and how to stay within the family budget.

Nehru Slams Reds

New Delhi, India, Sept. 17 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru shouted to heckling Communists today: "There's no room in India for you." Nehru was confronted at Ujjain by 3,000 Communist demonstrators who carried Red placards and shouted slogans. Nehru told the Reds: "If the Communists believe they can achieve their ends by staging demonstrations the peace, I should like to tell them they must go to the native place of communism with their Red flags and placards. I am not going to bow to them."

October to Be Warmer, Weather Bureau Says

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Weather Bureau anticipates most of the country will be warmer than usual for this season between now and mid-October.

It issued this forecast yesterday:

"The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for mid-September to mid-October calls for temperatures to average above seasonal normals over most of the nation except for somewhat cooler than normal weather over the northern and central plains.

"Sub-normal rainfall is predicted over the western part of the country except for near normal amounts in the northwest. In the eastern half of the nation precipitation amounts totaling slightly above seasonal normals are indicated."

Rapist Escapes In Gun Battle With Policemen

New York, Sept. 17 (AP)—A man who attempted to rape two women on a subway platform fought a gun battle with police on the tracks during the rush hour late yesterday.

More than a dozen shots were fired, but the Negro rapist escaped despite the fact that scores of police were rushed to block exits.

The rape attempts followed by a few hours the daylight stabbing of a woman on busy 42nd street by a Negro—a stranger—who she said had been molesting her for a week.

The crimes were highlights of the current wave of rape and robbery which has plagued the city by night and day.

More Police Ordered

To help cope with the situation, a disguised night-time auto fleet of 200 police has been ordered by Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan.

Monaghan also has moved to put more foot patrolmen on duty in crime areas.

Numerous recent attacks—some for money and others for lust—have been made on women, alone on streets or in subways.

Monaghan's order for stepped-up police protection was being put into effect as the subway gun battle was being fought.

The chase began when a near-hysterical woman told Transit Policeman Theodore Wolff, 27, that a Negro had attempted to rape her at an uptown subway station.

Gun Battle in Tunnel

Wolff found the man—pushing a screaming woman against a station wall. The rapist jumped to the tracks and exchanged shots with the policeman as they raced through the tunnel.

The policeman summoned aid, and then went back to the pursuit. The rapist jumped on him in the dark and fired, but missed. He also fired twice at one of the police reserves who piled down into the subway. One bullet whipped the cop's cap off. And then the fugitive disappeared.

Trains were either halted or slowed down as the search went on.

Monaghan said the new special detail, assigned to duty during the "critical hours" after night fall, will wear civilian clothes and ride in 100 unmarked police cars equipped with two-way radios.

Monaghan said the detail is in addition to regular prowl cars but is not the result of any emergency, but merely a crime prevention measure.

Rudisch Jewels Reported Stolen

Mrs. S. Rudisch, 235 Pearl street, reported to Detective Clarence Brophy yesterday that $735 worth of jewelry is missing from her home.

Mrs. Rudisch told the detective that she had gone to New York last month and when she returned with her husband, found a door unlocked. They thought nothing of it at the time, the report said, but later missed a pair of ruby and diamond clip ear rings valued at $500; three gold scatter pins, $100; a gold wedding band, $25; a silver bracelet, $25, a gold wrist watch, $45, a gold chain bracelet, $40 and "miscellaneous costume jewelry of small value."

Most of Nation Has Pleasant Weather

(By The Associated Press)

Mid-September's pleasant weather continued over most of the country today although rain dampened some areas.

Thunderstorms hit areas today from central and southern Indiana westward across Illinois to Kansas. Strong winds were reported in central Illinois with gusts up to 65 miles an hour in Quincy. More than one inch of rain fell in Vandalia, Ill., in six hours.

Thunderstorms also were reported in the southern Rockies and in the Carolinas while showers hit sections in the northeastern part of the country.

Mild weather continued in the southern states, the Mississippi valley and the central and southern plains. It was cooler over most of the Great Lakes region. A subfreezing reading of 31 was reported at Cadillac, Mich.

Wife, Soldier Are Accused of Plot To Hang Husband

Albuquerque, Sept. 17 (AP)—A fragile looking blonde, thrice married at 20, and a young military policeman are accused of a bizarre plot to hang her 41-year-old husband.

Police said they planned to kill William White, the British-born husband, so they could be wed.

Charges of conspiracy to commit murder were lodged yesterday against Mrs. Wanda White, the wife, and Cpl. William K. Oliver, 24, stationed at Sandia Special Weapons Base here.

Oliver, from Chillicothe, O., and Point Pleasant, W. Va., was arrested last Thursday and Mrs. White, formerly of Tishomingo, Okla., was taken into custody next day, but details were not disclosed until the complaints were filed.

Chief Detective Chief Frank Stepheson said an anonymous tip from one of Oliver's army buddies enabled police and military investigators to thwart the plot.

He Takes Blame

Oliver, who also is married, told a reporter:

"It was all my idea. She had nothing to do with it."

Mrs. White a petite 5 feet-4, said from her county jail cell, however, that she first agreed to the plan, then backed out.

Oliver, whose wife expects their second child next month, added in the interview from his cell:

"She wasn't happy with him (White). She wanted a divorce, but he wouldn't give her one. . . . If I ever get out and she gets a divorce, I'll still marry her."

Mrs. White, who observed she didn't get to go dancing much with a husband 21 years older, had a somewhat different version.

She Loves Husband

"I love my husband," she said. "He's been wonderful. He visits me every day and brings me things. I don't know if he believes I really tried to kill him or not. . . ."

The detective chief gave this account:

Mrs. White and Oliver first planned to shoot White with his own gun, a 9-mm. automatic, but were unable to find ammunition.

Then they planned for Mrs. White to lure him to a city park and the two proposed to force White, at gunpoin, to stand on the fender of the car so he could be hanged from a tree.

Military agents said Oliver admitted the hanging plot after White's gun was discovered in his car.

Mrs. White said she spends most of her time in jail reading.

"I like to read — mostly love stories," she said.

Judgment Is Asked By Ellenville Firm

New York, Sept. 17 (Special)—A declaratory judgment to determine the rights of manufacturing a television receiving antenna was asked for in an action brought in Federal Court here Tuesday by the Channel Master Corp. of Ellenville against Amy, Aceves and King, Inc., and La Pointe-Plascomold Corp., both of New York.

Prior to the suit, the defendants in this action claimed that Channel Masters was infringing on the patent rights granted the firm by manufacturing and selling the antenna.

The Ellenville corporation claims it is manufacturing its product under a patent owned by Joseph Y. Resnick, and is the sole licensee under the Resnick patent.

The action asks that the court declare the Resnick patent valid, issue a temporary injunction against the two New York firms, and order an accounting and payment of any illegal profits made by the firms.

George W. Nichols of Kingston was reelected for his 18th consecutive term as secretary-treasurer of the Chemical Warfare Service Veteran's Association, Inc., during the recent 17th annual meeting in New York.

Nichols also was renamed by the executive committee as editor of CWSVA publications and publicity.

All former CWS who served at any time since World War 1 to the present date are invited to attend including all now serving with present Chemical Corps. A similar meeting will be held in Chicago at a later date.

St. Louis will be the site of the 1953 convention in September.

The convention also reaffirmed its opposition to enactment of S 1141 Department of Health Bill or any bills that would reduce VA facilities to veterans requiring hospitalization or those now in active service.

Hershey Foresees Changes Needed if Quotas to Be Met

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey expressed the opinion today that changes must be made in Selective Service regulations next year, if the armed forces are to get the men they need.

Hershey, director of Selective Service, told reporters he did not know yet what specific changes should be made but said he did not think they would require congressional action. No proposed legislation is being drafted by his agency, he added.

Hershey said he regarded as too optimistic the estimate of some government manpower statisticians that there would be a pool of 500,000 draftable men next July 1.

But he added that even if that turns out to be true more men will be needed by next fall than will be provided under current policies.

He said that probably the best way to get additional draft-eligible manpower is to "fight and fight hard to get 'em out of the 4-F." On Aug. 1 this year there were 1,484,051 4-Fs. Physical standards are set by the armed services. Hershey indicated clearly that he thinks men are being rejected on physical grounds that could be used, saying:

"In time of general mobilization I think the armed forces ought to tell their induction stations that the rejection rate cannot exceed 20 per cent."

Up to April 30 this year rejections for physical, mental and moral reasons were running around 45 per cent, according to statistics Hershey presented to a House committee.

The general noted that re-examination of men rejected solely on mental grounds has resulted in 33,891 out of 114,233 being found acceptable for service. These re-examinations followed congressional action lowering the passing grade for the mental test.

The next big group mentioned by Hershey as a possible source for more men included 1,030,427 who had been deferred on dependency grounds as of July 31. He said the whole question of dependency is being studied.

Hershey said that so far almost all inductees are in the 20-year age group but pointed out that the original draft manpower pool covered youths from 19 to 26 years old.

"In two years we've gone down from the 25s to the 20s," he said. "And where do you think we'll be next year at that rate?"

October to Be Warmer, Weather Bureau Says

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Weather Bureau anticipates most of the country will be warmer than usual for this season between now and mid-October.

It issued this forecast yesterday:

"The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for mid-September to mid-October calls for temperatures to average above seasonal normals over most of the nation except for somewhat cooler than normal weather over the northern and central plains.

"Sub-normal rainfall is predicted over the western part of the country except for near normal amounts in the northwest. In the eastern half of the nation precipitation amounts totaling slightly above seasonal normals are indicated."

"In two years we've gone down from the 25s to the 20s," he said. "And where do you think we'll be next year at that rate?"
